Palm Trees Frame H.M.C.S. Sioux on Arrival in Hawaii

—A.P. Wirephoto

The Canadian destroyer Sioux, framed in Hawaiian palm trees, is shown pulling into Pearl Harbor yesterday, ending the first leg of her return journey to Esquimalt after five months of duty in Korean waters. Hula girls and a band greeted the ship when it docked. Skipper of the Sioux, Lieut.-Cmdr. Paul D. Taylor, said his ship had participated in a number of coastal bombardments.

Cougar Leaps Into Cabin To Maul Island Trapper

Controls Fixed In U.S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP). — The Government today froze wages and prices at the highest level they reached in the December 19-January 25 period. The freeze is effective as of Thursday midnight, and officials said it means that Thursday's levels will be the immediate stabilization line.

Price director Michael V. Di Salle told a press conference the purpose is to establish ceiling prices on all commodities and services except those specifically exempted.

Questioned why the economic stabilization administration had decided not to roll prices back to a level of several weeks ago—as had been considered — Di Salle said E.S.A. believed such a move would have made it necessary to delay the effective date three or four weeks.

"So we felt it would be better to freeze as of last evening," he declared.

Di Salle said most foods are exempt from the price ceilings because they are selling below parity (a sliding scale designed to keep farm prices at a fixed relationship to the farmer's costs).

But he said certain foods, including beef, veal and lamb, are above parity and therefore are frozen under the order.

Poultry prices are not frozen, Di Salle said, and E.S.A. has not yet decided whether pork is subject to control.

Margins of food handlers, both retailers and processors, will be frozen at the levels prevailing during the base period. As the raw commodity approaches parity, Di Salle said, however, those margins may be adjusted. The margin regulations will be issued later.

Man Wins Nightmare Battle In Dark With Raging Beast

Exclusive to The Daily Colonist

CAMPBELL RIVER, Jan. 26.—A 63-year-old man last night was attacked by a cougar which crashed through the window of his cabin ten miles north of Kelsey Bay.

Edward McLean, trapper and Department of Transport telephone and telegraph lineman, is making a satisfactory recovery in Lourdes Hospital here, from the effects of the battle and of drifting for hours in an open boat, clad only in underwear.

McLean told rescuers he had been getting ready for bed when the big cat came through the window.

Suddenly, he related, he found himself tangled with the year-old cougar and fighting bare-handed for his life in the dark. He managed to drag himself and the beast until he could reach a butcher knife.

ARM MAULED

By this time his right arm was so mauled it was useless. He cut the cougar's throat with the knife in his left hand.

The dazed man tore himself loose from the cat, which was still alive, and went barefoot through the snow to his rowboat, intending to get to a telephone in his other line cabin, six miles south. A brisk northwest wind kept him adrift for more than two hours in bitter cold. He was semi-conscious part of this time, he said later.

When he reached the second cabin, he was too weak to strike a light. He crawled into his sleeping bag, where he slept until 9 a.m.

CALLED FOR HELP

A Transport Department telephone in the cabinet enabled him to call help from Kelsey Bay. Frank Dingwall, department agent at Kelsey Bay, and William Firsch went by boat to his rescue.

Rushing McLean to hospital in Campbell River by car, they were met half way by J. H. Burgess, Transport Department district manager, who drove the injured man the rest of the 54-mile trip.

Dr. N. B. Hall of Lourdes Hospital reported McLean had suffered puncture wounds to the arms and shoulders and a torn right ear. His condition was described as good.

The wind which hampered the injured man's attempt to reach his second cabin also prevented an aircraft from reaching him, it was reported today.

Mr. Dingwall and Mr. Firsch later visited the cabin where the attack took place, and found the cougar still alive but barely breathing.

They ended its life with a bullet.

'Flu Toll In U.K. 6,750

LONDON, Jan. 27 (Saturday) (Reuters). — Influenza and pneumonia have killed more than 6,750 Britons since the beginning of December, official figures revealed today.

The figures only covered reports from 126 major cities in England and Wales, with about 20,000,000 people. Statistics for Scotland and Northern Ireland were not immediately available.

The Ministry of Health said that last week's influenza deaths totaled 1,099—the highest figure yet. Pneumonia deaths were 843—a drop of 142 compared with the week before.

During the December-January period, pneumonia killed 4,052 people while influenza killed 2,698.

More than 85 per cent of the influenza victims were people over 53 years old and 443 were over 75.

Home Topmost Thought For All Aboard Sioux

By RAY WORMALD
Colonist Marine Editor

ABOARD H.M.C.S. SIOUX AT PEARL HARBOR, Jan. 26.—There is but one important word in the vocabulary of men aboard the Sioux: HOME!!!

The destroyer reached this great U.S. naval base early this morning, the first of three Esquimalt-based destroyers to return from duty in the Korean war theatre.

The officers and men are a happy lot, their spirit being all the higher because they will be at Esquimalt next Sunday.

ONLY FOUR LEAVES

Along with the Cayuga and Athabaskan, the Sioux left for Korea last July. The Nootka has now relieved her.

During the ship's 179 days in Korean waters, her men had only four overnight leaves. A total of 33 days were spent in harbor at a Japanese base.

The Korean duty has been a record of rough weather, interesting experiences, and a great deal of monotony for the Sioux. She destroyed a total of nine mines.

She had no trouble from enemy aircraft or shore guns.

CLOSEST SHAVE

Probably the closest shave experienced by the destroyer took place in early September when she was relieved in the Inchon area by a Royal Navy destroyer.

The following day the British vessel was bombed by enemy planes and suffered casualties.

In order to tell the story of the first group of Canadians returning from the Korean war, The Daily Colonist flew its marine editor, Ray Wormald, to Honolulu. His job started today when he boarded H.M.C.S. Sioux on her arrival in Pearl Harbor. He will return here with the destroyer. The Colonist will carry the daily articles and pictures he sends back.

Lieut.-Cmdr. Pat Benson, executive officer, told of a number of bombardments conducted by the Sioux in company with Royal Navy craft. Shelling was carried out, and numerous enemy shore installations were blasted.

Coldwell Raps Federal Policy On Red China

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP).—M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said tonight the new session of Parliament, opening Tuesday, should "condemn" the Federal Government for "its failure to recognize" the Communist Government of China "long before the Korean invasion."

In a speech prepared for delivery to a public meeting here, Mr. Coldwell said Canada's foreign policy must be subject to the scrutiny of Parliament.

He believed Parliament should commend External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson for his work on the United Nations cease-fire committee, which attempted to halt the fighting in Korea.

NEGOTIATION

"We should proclaim to the world that we will not compromise on the aim of a free and independent Korea, though we shall leave no stone unturned in an effort to achieve this through peaceful means by negotiation," said Mr. Coldwell. "We should work for peaceful and permanent settlement of all other Far-Eastern problems."

He called for financial and other aid to Asia and said Canada could also contribute to peace by helping India through the famine now threatening millions of people. Canada could offer whatever surplus grain is available to India.

Sioux Sailors To Get Leave

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP).—Officers and men of the destroyer H.M.C.S. Sioux will get 14 days' special leave when their ship returns to Esquimalt early in February from the Korean theatre, Naval Headquarters announced tonight.

In addition, transportation to and from their homes will be provided at service expense.

The chief of naval staff, Vice-Admiral H. T. W. Grant, has authorized such special leave — in addition to regular annual leave—for all personnel of the Royal Canadians Navy Special Force, serving in Korean waters.

Mortimore Begins Tour To England

Daily Colonist Columnist G. E. Mortimore is packed, ready and willing. On Page 2 of today's issue he and his wife, Peggy, take the first step on their trip to England, via Montreal, St. John and Halifax.

But first they have to make the midnight boat. This and all their other adventures on the way will be published every day except Tuesday for the next six weeks.

With his portable typewriter, G.E.M. whether sitting in a train, on board ship, or stranded in a waiting-room, will bat out his column, faithfully recording what he sees that he thinks might be of interest to Colonist readers. Turn the page and start this trip to an England still rationed, rapidly becoming nationalized and at present undergoing a shortage of coal.

Cold Halts Flooding On Island

Freezing temperatures last night put a temporary halt to flooding on Vancouver Island as waters which on Thursday caused evacuation of several families, were reported to have receded.

A survey conducted as far north as Campbell River showed that not too extensive damage had been inflicted, although farmers and householders had been caused inconvenience.

As the dropping temperatures slowed melting of snow, the Koksilah, Chemainus and Cowichan Rivers dropped and flood waters left roads and other inundated areas high and dry.

However, late yesterday the Koksilah River was still half way across the road at low points near the Komiaken Indian village.

ROAD REOPENED

At the E. & N. Railway station at Shawnigan the colder weather held back waters that had previously risen four inches. The road to Port Renfrew, impassable Thursday, was reopened late yesterday afternoon.

Mishap Injures Alberni Man

PORT ALBERNI, Jan. 26.—Roland Morrison, 35, mechanic at the Bloedel, Stewart & Welch Co., Ltd., sawmill, was flown to Vancouver today by Port Alberni Airways for hospital treatment following a serious accident at the mill here.

Morrison was working on a carrier when the engine block fell and hit him on the head. He was rushed to the West Coast General Hospital here where examination indicated he was suffering from a fractured skull and his removal to hospital in Vancouver was thought advisable. His wife and young child reside in Alberni.

Seven-Nation Conference On Cease-Fire Proposed

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Jan. 26 (CP)—Canada today proposed that a seven-country conference to work out a quick cease-fire in Korea be called within a week to test Communist China's intentions.

L. B. Pearson, Canada's External Affairs Minister, stressed to the 60-member political committee of the United Nations that a cease-fire must precede negotiations for peace in Korea.

The Canadian proposal was presented in the form of suggestions and not as a resolution. But the Arab-Asian countries were reported considering incorporating parts of Pearson's plan in their own Korean resolution, now before the committee.

REJECTS PLAN

The Dominion's delegate rejected the Arab-Asian resolution on the grounds it omits the principle that a cease-fire must precede general negotiations.

He announced Canada will vote for the U.S. resolution which calls for condemnation of Communist China as an aggressor and for study of possible sanctions against Peiping.

He added that Canada believes it is "premature and unwise" to present the U.S. resolution when the possibilities of negotiations with Communist China are not completely exhausted.

Canada would vote for the U.S. resolution, however, because its main purpose "is to condemn the Chinese People's Government for the assistance they have given the aggressors in Korea."

Pearson said the U.N. should give Peiping 48 hours to say whether it will take part in the seven-country session.

American circles withheld judgment on Pearson's suggestions but insisted that nothing should be allowed to hold up a decision on the U.S. resolution.

Fear Mounts That Missing Painter Drowned in Flooded Saanich Flats

By GORDON FORBES

As more than 100 volunteers including Scouts, friends, relatives and police joined in the search, fear mounted yesterday that Cecil P. Saunders, 46, 1049 Hulford Avenue had drowned in the flooded Marigold flats area.

Saunders, a painter and father of two, has been missing since Monday afternoon. He may be suffering from amnesia.

Starting out at dawn yesterday, searchers scoured the entire area between Marigold Avenue and Tillicum, and from the interurban track to Burnside Road. They found no trace of the missing man.

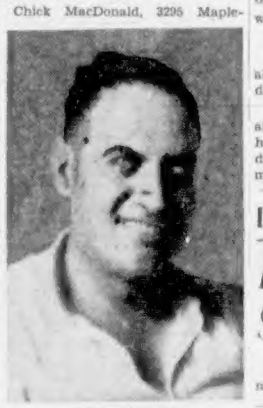
PRAISE SEARCHERS

Sgt. Eric Elwell and Freeman King, Scout executive commissioner, were in charge of the overall hunt. Soaked through from searching through the watery district, the two men had great praise for the searchers they had been leading.

Saunders was last seen by a Marigold woman just after lunch Monday. He was seen by several persons at the corner of Marigold Avenue and Interurban Road where he got out of his truck and removed his overalls. He then drove about one block from the corner and parked on Daffodil Avenue. The woman saw him walk down Marigold Avenue toward the flooded flats where the rushing water is four and five feet in depth in places. She did not see Saunders after that.

Chick MacDonald, 3296 Maplewood Street, said he had worked with the missing man until noon Monday. Saunders said he was going downtown to buy some groceries and would be back in an hour.

"I never saw him again," stated MacDonald. "We had been working on Henderson Road and had gone back to my house during the lunch hour. He had been depressed, but I only noticed it that day. Trouble was written all over his face."



CECIL P. SAUNDERS

TELL POLICE

Anybody having any information about Saunders' movements on Monday should inform Saanich police.

He is described as of medium build, about five feet, eight inches in height, with dark hair, and wearing dark pants and brown checked mackinaw.

Dozen Still Stranded

Blizzard Kills Banff Man Sends Wife to Hospital

BANFF, Alta., Jan. 26 (CP). — One man is dead, one woman in hospital —rescued by snowmobile—and 12 other persons are stranded in a mountain canyon, victims of a howling blizzard that swept through the Kootenay Park district, 35 miles west of Banff, Thursday night.

Dead is C. A. Patterson, about 40, of Banff. He froze to death when he became separated from the party which was on its way to Invermere, B.C.

The woman, identified as Patterson's wife, is suffering severe frostbite.

The other 12 are spending their second night tonight in the four-room cabin of Glen Brooks, park warden at Marble Canyon, 35 miles west of here.

First word of the tragedy was received today at the park superintendent's office at Banff over the single line telephone to the warden's cabin.

One Life Believed Lost, Roads Washed and Submerged by Local and Island Floods

Trouhalem Road, near Comiaken Indian Village, three miles from Duncan was completely submerged by the swollen waters of the Koksilah River. River also inundated long stretches of Cowichan Bay Road. Cold weather has slowed up snow-fed waters but river is still over a few very low areas.

Constable Robin Stewart of Saanich Police is pictured above at flooded Marigold Flats where Cecil P. Saunders, 1049 Hulford Avenue, missing since Monday, is feared to have drowned. Yesterday's search, which began early in the morning failed to disclose any sign of the missing man.

ALL ABOARD

By G. E. Mortimore

By the time you read this, my wife and I will be on our way to the land of rationing, pubs and free false teeth—the homeland of Tories and the playground of Lefties—England the beautiful.

Our reasons for going there are varied and rather dull, so I won't bore you with them. Our travel plans are badly conceived, as they always are, and doubtless they will be badly executed. They call for us to cross the Atlantic at one of the worst possible times of the year, arrive in time to catch the foul weather, and leave before the Festival of Britain starts.

During the next few weeks we are certain to do one or all of the following things: Miss a boat, a bus, a train or a plane; lose our tempers, become ill or run out of money.

The communications which appear five times a week in this space will reach you by devious means, if they reach you at all. They will arrive at The Colonist office bearing outlandish postmarks. I will write them under severe handicaps, distracted by the constant fear of losing my tickets, and also by sightseeing, meals, other people's nomadic children and my wife.

I have never tried the experiment of working with my wife at my elbow night and day, especially while the landscape is flashing past or the ocean is showering me with brine. Science may be interested in the result.

* * *

Another handicap which I should mention is my portable typewriter. Portables are getting bigger and less portable every year, it seems. The one I have is more like a desk model with a case. I don't see how I can survive the voyage without permanent damage to my leg-bones.

Preparations have kept us spinning like Japanese mice for the last week. One day some brilliant man will devise a scheme which allows you to simply get a ticket, climb aboard a boat or train, and leave.

Until that day comes, however, preparing to travel will be an ordeal. Tickets, berths, money, bills to be paid, addresses of people you have to look up, addresses of people you have to avoid, deciding what to do with the house, car and cat, continuing your daily job, saying good-byes and packing—all are tasks which eat into time and patience.

Packing is one job which is never finished. If someone notified you that you were going away in a year's time, and allowed you the whole year in which to do your packing, it's doubtful if you would complete the job to your own satisfaction. There are never enough suitcases, and you are never sure what to take. One of the suitcases is always falling to pieces.

You try to tackle packing and the other problems briskly and in order, but somehow they get run together and snarled up. You don't seem to be getting anywhere. You feel as though you were wading through cotton-wool, waist deep. You tell yourself there's plenty of time, but suddenly the day of departure is tomorrow.

* * *

Well, a great many of the problems have sorted themselves out for us, chiefly by blind luck. Two friends who work in this office—Arnie Myers and Frank Meade, have sub-let the house from us and taken care of three things at one stroke—house, car and cat. There remains only packing, and I'm leaving most of that to my wife.

Bacteria, economic need and the elements are bound to conspire together to louse up our trip. My wife and I will be surprised—almost disappointed—if nothing goes wrong, because something has always gone wrong before.

Liverpool, I saw in the papers a while ago, has been ravaged by the worst influenza epidemic in years. Liverpool is the port where we're scheduled to land. Because of a coal shortage, the Government has decreed that advertising signs in London must be blacked out. We were going to London, hoping to see the rainbow blaze of lights we remembered from a long way back.

No doubt the worst blizzard in years will lash Canada just before we leave, paralysing all communication.

But come snow, sleet or bubonic plague, we're catching that midnight boat.

Sanction Study Seen As "Brake" for U.N.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Jan. 26 (CP). — Canada's delegation to the United Nations believes that setting up a committee to study possible sanctions against Communist China could act as a brake on any rash action by the United Nations, informed sources said tonight.

Formation of the 14-member study group, of which Canada would be a member, is one of the provisions of the United States resolution now before the U.N. Assembly's 60-member political committee.

Informed sources said Canada, unlike Britain, is not worried about that section of the U.S. resolution. The Dominion's view is that the study group could set its sights on furthering negotiations with Communist China on Korea rather than on possible sanctions against Peiping.

MAY BE AMENDED

The Canadian delegation expects that the U.S. resolution may be amended — against U.S. wishes — to water down the paragraph which deals with possible sanctions and to give new emphasis to the possibilities of negotiation.

However, it is believed likely that the U.S. resolution as a whole would get about 33 votes in favor. About 13 countries would oppose it and about 14 would abstain from voting. Such a line-up would give the American resolution the two-thirds majority necessary for approval.

L. B. Pearson, Canada's External Affairs Minister, told the political committee today that Canada believes the U.S. resolution is "premature" in that negotiation with Communist China still is feasible. Canada will support the resolution as a whole, however, because its main purpose is to brand Communist China as an aggressor.

Oddities

MONTREAL, Jan. 26 (CP).—Letter to a clothing dealer here:

"My Dear Little Man:

"Would you like to get the shirt back that I stole in your store yesterday afternoon when I was there? Yes? Well, this is what you do . . . Go up to the Central Station with the key I am sending you in this letter. It is in the locker bearing the number of the key, naturally, and that is the place you will get it.

"The reason I am returning it to you is because I have succeeded in stealing another one much nicer somewhere else. At your store, you see, I had to make it so fast to put it in the bag I had with me that I neglected to examine it chrefully, but when I looked at it, I didn't like it . . .

"So good night and go and get it."

The shirt was there.

BOSTON, Jan. 26 (AP).—Comedian Fred Allen, in town for the day, said he came to get his cat because he heard the Massachusetts tax commissioner was going to tax felines.

"You know why he wants to tax cats, don't you?" Allen asked. "They have nine lives. That means nine inheritance taxes for him to collect."

Bars to Entry Of Indians Eased Slightly

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP).—Canada has relaxed slightly her rigid restrictions on the entry of East Indians.

The External Affairs Department today announced an agreement under which 150 citizens of India would be admitted yearly.

The agreement ended a 21-year almost complete ban on the entry of Indians. It was reached in an exchange of notes between Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and P. K. Banerjee, acting high commissioner for India. There now are about 1,700 persons of Indian origin in Canada, most of them in British Columbia.

Agreements are being negotiated with Pakistan and Ceylon for the emigration of limited numbers of their citizens.

Europe Needs Morale Boost

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP). — General Eisenhower told the Canadian Cabinet today the first need for a successful European defence is a boost in morale, a moral inspiration.

Without minimizing the exertions that will have to be made in manpower and arms, he stressed the importance of North America making every effort to convince Europeans they are not alone. Earlier he told reporters he came away from Europe "greatly encouraged."

Biggest Bayonet Charge Of War Recaptures Hill

TOKIO, Jan. 27 (Saturday) (AP).—Powerful elements of two United States Corps stabbed to within 15 miles of Seoul Friday, killing 474 Chinese in a savage bayonet charge.

They found little opposition elsewhere in the South Korean area where the Red vanguard once was massed.

(Reuters News Agency said U.N. patrols were reported within ten miles of Seoul, pushing ahead the main force.)

An army spokesman announced the count of enemy dead in Friday's charge that took Hill 156, five miles south of Suwon. It was the biggest bayonet action of the war. In addition, 60 Chinese were captured there.

In the Korean war's previous major bayonet action, the Turkish brigade killed about 200 Chinese last November on the Chingchon River front.

Identity of Friday's bayonet victors was not disclosed.

A correspondent said the Chinese 50th Army of three divisions—possibly 30,000 men—was in line opposite the advancing Allied forces but made no move to counter-attack.

Size of the U.N. attack force was not indicated in censored dispatches from the field. A special Eighth Army communique referred to them as "strong," with tanks, artillery and powerful air support. (A corps normally is two or more divisions.)

A record total of more than 350,000 tourist inquiries was handled by the Government Travel Bureau at Ottawa in 1950.

Popular Newsman Dies in Ottawa

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP). — R. K. Carnegie, whose typewriter for many years recorded the national scene for Canada's newspapers, died today.

The kindly, 66-year-old former chief of The Canadian Press' Ottawa bureau, stricken by a heart attack two weeks ago, left many friends in virtually every newspaper office in the country and in high and low ranks of government and politics.

A newspaperman for 45 years, he spent 21 of those supervising the coverage of the capital for Canada's national news-gathering agency.

Britain Cuts Meat Ration

LONDON, Jan. 26 (Reuters).—Food Minister Maurice Webb, once known as "The housewife's champion," today brought dismay to Britain's kitchens by announcing a further cut in the already-minute meat ration.

From February 4 each individual will be entitled to only eight pence (about ten cents) worth of fresh meat a week plus two pence worth of canned beef, he told the House of Commons. Eight pence buys one tiny chop or its equivalent.

It was the second cut within a month. At the beginning of the year the ration was sliced from 1s. 6d. to a shilling, made up of ten pence fresh meat and two pence canned. This followed a one-third cut in December.

Pietermaritzburg, the capital of Natal Province in South Africa, was founded by the Boers in 1839.

St. Lawrence Halts Drop

LONGUEUIL, Que., Jan. 26 (CP).—Stubborn refusal of the St. Lawrence River to pull back its punishing flood waters brought new fears tonight to hundreds of weary Longueuil residents.

Only a few of the 200 families forced from their homes before dawn were able to return during the day.

The flood that spilled suddenly into the little South Shore city directly opposite Montreal began a grudging withdrawal. Then suddenly halted its retreat.

The water, which reached a depth of six feet or more in the worst affected areas, dropped from 18 inches to three feet in streets leading up to the city's main thoroughfare.

Ice jams, brought on by recent mild spells in the weather, were blamed for the overflow.

ALL HEAT NO ASH

Winter's a Happy Season When You Heat Your Home With GASCO BRIQUETS

No other solid fuel can begin to give you the magic convenience and economy of Gasco Briquets. They save work, save time, save money. They burn steadily, keep your house uniformly warm from morning to night. Although man-made, Gasco Briquets cost less to use than fuels from forest or mine—because they are all heat. There is no waste, no ash. And, because they are man-made, every ton of Briquets is exactly like the last.

- Gasco Briquets burn from 15% to 20% more efficiently than other solid fuels.
- They hold a steady, intense, glowing heat for 8 to 12 hours.
- They burn perfectly in furnace, fireplace, stove or heater.
- Gasco Briquets are the modern scientific fuel—they give the next thing to automatic heat.
- Gasco Briquets are cleaner—no ashes to track into your house, no soot to soil your walls.
- Gasco Briquets give you fifteen to twenty minutes additional time per day for work, play or relaxation.

Address to Haggis Brightens Burns Gathering

—Colonist Photo.

Traditional anniversary Burns Night dinner of the Knights and Dames of the Thistle opened last night at Robert House when Rev. T. H. McAllister, centre, performed the carving ceremony and "addressed" the haggis. With Mr. McAllister is Piper Malcolm McMillan (left) and his father, James McMillan, who carried the haggis through the hall. About 300 members and friends attended the banquet which featured a program of entertainment with a dance following.

Kilts Add Color to Annual Burns Dinner

—Colonist Photo.

A few minutes before the traditional piping in of the haggis, Jack Robertson, centre, president of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society, poses in the Empress Lounge with Pipe Major Ian Duncan (left) and Pipe Major J. R. Marrs. Mr. Robertson was chairman at the annual Burns Night dinner of the society held in the hotel ballroom. Kilted guests added to the Scottish atmosphere of the colorful event. More than 300 attended.

Burns Night Celebrated In Full Color

The memory of the unforgettable Scottish poet, Robert Burns, was toasted with traditional color last night at the Empress Hotel as the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society of Greater Victoria held its annual Burns Night dinner and dance.

More than 300 Scottish members and friends crowded into the ballroom at 7 p.m. for the traditional ceremony of the piping in of the haggis. In an atmosphere of tartan splendor, the haggis was borne through the Empress lounge and into the banquet room by William Bowman, flanked by Pipe Major Ian Duncan and Pipe Major J. R. Marrs.

After the dinner, guests were treated to Scottish folk songs by John Dunbar, whose group of songs included "Star of Robbie Burns," and Roberta Patterson who sang "Whistle and I'll Come to You My Lad."

RICH HERITAGE

In an after-dinner address, Rev. William Allan spoke of the rich heritage of Burns' work and quoted from two of his better-known poems, "For A' That" and "To a Mouse."

Burns was one of the first to search out "the holy altar" of man's independent mind, said Mr. Allan. He was one of the first to see that organized religion, government or economic conditions could not dictate to men with free minds.

Later, Walter Burgess entertained with Highland dancing. Joyce Butler, pianist, accompanied Mr. Burgess and the singers.

Chairman for the dinner was President Jack Robertson. George Dakers arranged the entertainment program.

Scottish Knights, Dames Gather to Honor Burns

Robert Burns would have enjoyed Rev. T. H. McAllister's "address to the haggis" last night when the Knights and Dames of the Thistle held their Burns anniversary dinner at Robert House.

Carried by James McMillan and [illegible] Millan, the Scottish delicacy was borne through the hall and onto the stage, where Mr. McAllister performed the traditional carving ceremony.

After dinner, the exclusive Robert Burns theme was maintained by an address to the "immortal memory" by H. Wood, the song "Star of Robbie Burns," sung by J. Bell and other Scottish folk songs by Mrs. J. Shepherd.

E. White proposed a toast to the kindred societies, one of which was the St. Andrews and Caledonian Society holding its Burns Night dinner at the Empress Hotel.

The entertainment program continued with a duet by Mrs. Shepherd and Mr. Bell, a concertina selection played by D. McFarlane, songs "Afton Waters" and "Ye Banks and Braes" sung by G. Ford, with Pianist Angus McDonald accompanying. Accompanist for the other selections was Mrs. E. Clarke.

TRADITIONAL SONG

Following an opening address by the chairman, Mrs. E. Alexander, the whole gathering sang the traditional Scottish folk song "There Was a Lad."

After the entertainment and addresses, a dance began with a Grand March led by Piper McMillan.

The group was the Victoria Council No. 1 of the Knights and Dames of the Thistle.

Strikers Picket City Mattress Plant

—Colonist Photo.

Picketing employees of Victoria Bed & Mattress Co. Ltd. and Parker's Manufacturing Co. Ltd., 776 Topaz Avenue, lined up with placards in front of main gate at plant yesterday after walking off jobs at noon. Strike followed months of negotiation and company rejection of eight-cent-an-hour wage increase recommended by conciliation board.

Wage Negotiations Fail; Mattress Plant Struck

Seven months of unsuccessful wage negotiations culminated in the strike yesterday at noon of some 50 employees of the Victoria Bed and Mattress Co. Ltd. and Parker's Manufacturing Co. Ltd., associate firms at 776 Topaz Avenue.

Following the walkout, a picket line of about 35 men and women employees formed at the main gate of the plant.

Earlier this week, employees voted 25 to 15 in favor of strike action to back their demands.

The vote followed company rejection of a unanimous conciliation report recommending an across-the-board wage increase of eight cents an hour and continuation of the 44-hour week, and suggesting further talks regarding output bonuses for individual workers.

The report was accepted by the employees, who had originally asked for a ten-per-cent increase and a 40-hour week.

Subsequent negotiations failed.

Albert Parker, company president, said the management "saw no use in negotiating under the threat of a strike."

Main point at issue, he said, is the question of piece-work.

Until this year the firms had paid wages, but, in order to compete with Eastern manufacturers, now felt it necessary to institute piece-work, he said.

Mr. Parker said he could not endorse an across-the-board increase.

He said increased production costs might mean "liquidation of the plant."

Present pay rates for men employed by the companies range from 70 cents to $1.24 an hour.

Minimum starting rate for women is 45 cents an hour; for girls, 35 cents.

Approximately 25 regular employees were laid off in December as a result of "seasonal conditions."

Diggon, Williams to Contest Council Seat in By-Election

Former alderman Harold Diggon and William H. Williams have taken out nomination papers at City Hall as candidates in the forthcoming aldermanic by-election to be held on Thursday, February 8.

Both Mr. Diggon and Mr. Williams were unsuccessful in December civic elections.

Mr. Diggon has had wide experience as an alderman in six years as a member of City Council. In 1950 he served as acting mayor in the absence of the chief magistrate. He was chairman of the finance committee, the transportation committee, and the special committee which carried out renovations and improvements to the City Hall building.

Mr. Williams, 36, is manager of a city transfer company. A veteran, he was born in Victoria. He is a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans.

Deadline for filing of nomination papers at City Hall is 2 p.m. Thursday.

The Council vacancy to be filled was caused by the forced withdrawal of alderman-elect Roy Whittle because of insufficient property qualifications. Mr. Whittle defeated Mr. Diggon at the polls.

GUARD OF HONOR

City firemen and policemen yesterday formed a guard of honor at the funeral of Phillip N. Guy, 61, former deputy fire chief.

The service was held at McCall Bros.' Funeral Home, Rev. Canon A. E. Greenhalgh officiating. Numerous floral tributes were placed on the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Fire chiefs of the four municipalities, and Ald. F. G. Mulliner, representing Mayor Percy E. George, attended.

Pallbearers were Chief Robert Brindle, G. A. Raymond, fomer chief; Charles A. Gwyer, former assistant chief; Lt.-Cmdr. J. D. Crowther, R.C.N.; Assistant Chief E. Bennett, and Capt. H. S. Carter.

WILL TAKE ACTION

City building inspector J. W. Oosterink declared yesterday his department was prepared to take action against citizens who have failed to guard or cover up excavations.

"If people will notify the building department of any open excavations, we will make the owner put up a fence," he asserted. "If we hear of any oil tank excavations uncovered, we will go after that, too."

Alderman Dr. J. W. Hunter said the city's building by-law obligated citizens to cover excavations. Maximum penalty for failure to comply is a fine of $100.

Ald. Hunter said he did not think it was necessary to add "more teeth" to the building by-law.

Will China Consider a Truce and Discussion?

HON. Leonard B. Pearson's proposal before the political committee of the United Nations yesterday was the third and most effective contribution Canada has made towards mediation of the Korean fighting to date. Twice before Mr. Pearson has set forth this country's views on the subject to good effect. His compromise suggestion—neither the hard ultimatum of the United States formula, nor the "other cheek" plan proposed by India and later broadened in the Arab-Asian proposal—asks simply if Communist China would respond within 48 hours to a truce to be followed immediately by sessions of a seven-nation conference of those nations most concerned to consider settlement of the Korean and related issues in the Far East.

It has been significant that while the United Nations' political committee wrestled with American, Indian and Canadian proposals as to the next step in the present deadlock that something approaching a lull in the fighting has been taking place in Korea. Both there in the field and diplomatically at Lake Success it is high time that Communist China made clear what she will do. The tossing backwards and forwards of what she will not do has taken the discussion nowhere.

If Mr. Pearson's suggestion is taken as seriously by China as it was by the other major conferees, it might yet prove to be the successful formula. A truce and a declaration of intentions, without name-calling or "penalties," is about all of the concession that Mao's regime can now expect from the most tolerant members of the United Nations, who have watched three cease-fire requests scoffed at in turn. Mr. Pearson also indicated Canada's position in the event of a breakdown in this latest effort; it is that this nation will side with others in declaring that China's course in Korea has been open and intended aggression.

The next 24 hours may bring this phase of the negotiations to a climax. It is clearly China's move, and she is being given what amounts to a last chance to show that ambition has not run away with her reason.

Is It Not the Small Nations Which Need Protection?

WESTERN apologists for the expansion of Soviet influence have frequently cited fear of attack as justification for the methods adopted by Russia to surround herself with friendly governments. It is natural, they argue, for the Soviet Union to seek its own protection, hence the buffer or satellite ring she has created in the post-war years. That a buffer state might also have natural ambitions never seems to count.

The thesis, of course, does not bear examination, unless on the premise that small nations have no rights at all. If a large and powerful nation like Russia needs the protection of a buffer state, what about the protection of the buffer state itself? It is small comfort to be co-opted into the Soviet hegemony in the role of a shock-absorber. This is the position of Bulgaria, Poland, Rumania, et al, not of their own choosing, but through force or the threat of force. Can it be seriously argued that because these countries are weak and small they should be sacrificed, as they have been, for the safety of a giant power?

A report from the East indicates that Communist China is bent on following the Soviet pattern. The security of her realm, according to Communist philosophy, necessitates the domination of countries like Indo-China, Tibet, Thailand, and Burma. Their security, in the scale of Communistic reckoning, matters not one iota. Those who would excuse Russian tactics should revise their ideas, if only in the light of what the Soviet's Chinese imitators have in mind. Freedom has nothing to do with size, and a big neighbor has no rights that do not belong equally to the smaller geographical associate.

Counting the Gain But Ignoring the Loss

IMMIGRATION Minister Harris is reported to have stated in a recent speech that he estimates the flow of immigrants into Canada plus the output of the schools will increase Canada's labor force by 220,000 individuals this year. That would be a useful if not spectacular accretion of manpower, if it were real; but it would not be real. The minister's estimate is, in fact, grossly misleading because it deals with the intake end of the manpower pool only and conveniently says nothing about the other end.

Gross and net gains are altogether different. Supposing the increase looked for by Mr. Harris were attained, it would not by any means cause an equal increase in Canada's total labor force. What of the death rate? What of voluntary and enforced retirements? What of the steady drift of young Canadians out of the country, which in some years has almost matched the inflow?

When these factors are taken into account, the 220,000 increase envisaged by Mr. Harris becomes illusory. What the actual increase in working population will be by the end of the year there is no way of knowing, but there can be no doubt that a decimal point should be inserted somewhere in the figure mentioned by the minister. It should be noted that although Canada received 74,000 immigrants last year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics places the year's increase in the total labor force at a mere 1,000.

The reference to the supposed expansion of the labor force in the next 11 months was made in an attempt to show that the 150,000 immigrants the Government will bring—or rather, hopes to bring—to Canada this year would meet the country's absorptive capacity. It illustrates how misleading can be a picture only half exposed.

SINGLE TRANSFERABLE VOTE

Sir,—The idea of a single transferable vote, as advocated by some factions in both the Liberal and Conservative Parties, is in my opinion undemocratic, and can only be regarded as a "device." The more one interferes with the democratic exercise of the franchise, the more difficulty accrues. That the proposed system is advanced for the purpose of putting the Provincial Liberal Party back into power is clearly shown by the fact that none of those who have supported it within the ranks of the party, suggest that it has sufficient merit to be applied Federally where, for the time being at least, the party in power is in no serious danger of being replaced. What the Progressive Conservative Party can gain by it is something that I cannot envisage. The democratic conception of the exercise of the franchise is to select the person whom the voter wishes to represent him or her in either of the Parliaments. Why confine it to a single transferable vote? Why not go the "whole hog" and make it a popularity contest and vote for say twenty candidates in any given riding? Why not vote against the person that you do not wish to be your representative in Parliament?.

The defect in the whole idea is that, to make it effective, legislation would have to be passed to avoid what is known as "plumping." The next step would be, of course, to pass legislation against Socialists being allowed to nominate candidates at all, and force people to vote for non-Socialists and by doing so we arrive, more or less, at the system adopted in Germany and Russia where the "voter" has only one choice. I would prefer the Province to get a "dose" of Socialism, and then come back to its senses by democratic means.

Like Mr. Wismer, it is my considered opinion that there is no pretext whatever for party government in British Columbia or in any other province; but I do not agree with him in the method he proposes to suggest to the Legislature. Only about forty per cent of the voters vote according to label and the main difference of opinion Provincially (though not Federally) is not Liberal and Conservative, but Free Enterprise vs. Socialism.

If the Coalition is to be ended, the honest and democratic method would be for each party to choose its own candidates in every riding and "fight it out."

My view is that the question should not have come up at the October convention of the Progressive Conservative Association at all, and only did so through the ineptitude of some of those concerned with the agenda of the convention. The question was not properly debated and should not be considered as binding on any individual Member of the Legislature. This type of procedure will, in my opinion, give far more strength to the C.C.F. protest than a lot of people think. Many voters will cast a protest vote against the Government if, on the Government's motion, the legislation is adopted for the very reason that many voters will consider that they have been "dragooned."

Chorus of Spirits

We come from the mind
Of human kind
Which was late so dusk and obscene and blind:
Now 'tis an ocean
Of clear emotion,
A heaven of serene and mighty motion.

From that deep abyss
Of wonder and bliss,
Whose caverns are crystal palaces;
From the shiey towers
Where Thought's crowned powers
Sit watching your dance, ye hoppy Hours!

Then weave the web of the mystic measure;
From the depths of the sky and the ends of the earth,
Come, swift Spirits of might and of pleasure,
Fill the dance and the music of mirth,
As the waves of a thousand streams rush by
To an ocean of splendour and harmony.

Good Publicity

By FRANK KELLEY

WHO first began to conjure up "little bits of England" on Southern Vancouver Island might be difficult to determine at this time. Residents and visitors from time to time evidently saw similarities, even if slight, and so expressed themselves. One occasionally heard that such-and-such a bit of Victoria could have been transplanted from England; but not being familiar with Old Country haunts, alleyways and countryside, except in pictures and contacts with individuals who seemed to ooze the Old Land atmosphere, one accepted it all at word-of-mouth value.

There were the oak trees of the Uplands and Mount Tolmie areas which, no doubt, served to recall memories of home, even if the trees were not of like venerable growth. There was the narrow alleyway, known as Waddington, located between Lower Yates and Johnson Streets which, under certain conditions of local atmosphere and gaslight illumination brought nostalgic memories to others.

* * *

Probably the most really truly "little bit of England on the shores of the Pacific", however, was a bit adjoining the Court House on Langley Street. That would be The Boomerang. It was a typical English inn and conducted according to typical Old Country routines. There was a bar where you were served by barmaids and with its lunch-room was the rendezvous of a select clientele. My old friend, Herrick McGregor, in his book, "The Wisdom of Waloopi," dedicates a bit of verse to it.

Then there was Rudyard Kipling's world-girdling effusion, inspired by the morning approach of an ocean liner from William Head to Rithet Piers, an experience, believe me, that can provoke under like circumstances, just as eye-enchanting vistas as caused the "Poet of Imperialism" to sketch his picture in verbal eulogisms and comparisons.

* * *

At that, whoever was responsible for adopting the "little bit of England" slogan as a publicity "come-on" was a good propagandist in any language. It was decidedly good business, even though Victoria will always be itself even while bearing the name of a very gracious English lady and queen, something which could always associate the city with the "little bit of England" fancy.

In connection with all the foregoing, I must confess that occasionally a reader favors me with a publication dealing with facts pertinent to British Columbia. Not so long ago my old friend "Pat" McGregor brought me a copy of "The British Columbia Year Book," compiled by R. E. Gosnell, and published by the British Columbia Government during Great War times. I once owned a copy of it, but you know how it is with books. Gosnell, brilliant newspaperman, was the editor of The Colonist when he deserted journalism to become "Librarian of the Legislative Assembly and Secretary of the Bureau of Statistics."

* * *

It was while browsing through the gift book I happened to note a subtitle in a bit dealing with Vancouver Island. It read, "A Bit of Old England." That intrigued me some. Quoting from it: "Vancouver Island bears a close resemblance to Great Britain in its geographical position, as well as in climate and certain natural characteristics. The climate, mild and moist as in England, is warmer and brighter. . . . This applies to the southern and eastern sides particularly, where holly, ivy, broom, gorse, heather, privet and other Old Country shrubs thrive in perfection and all the old-fashioned English flowers are seen in garden and field as though to the manor born. The picturesque oaks complete the verisimilitude."

No "Magic Formula"

DAVID E. Lilienthal, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, says unqualifiedly in this week's Collier's Magazine that dropping the A-bomb on Russia would not defeat the Reds, nor would it prevent [illegible] army from occupying Europe.

"An atomic attack would not 'destroy Russia'," he writes. "It would gravely, terribly wound Russia, but not defeat her. Nor would it, alone, prevent the Red Army from overrunning and occupying Europe, not even if A-bombs were used in anticipation of such attack—the 'preventive war' thesis."

Lilienthal believes America's immediate program for peace should be built on the program of productiveness, "the principle that productiveness is unlimited, a fundamental but little understood tenet of our American experience."

"Our peace program should provide a minimum role to controls, to restrictions, allocations, directives, orders, and a maximum role to stimulating productivity of human and material resources," he writes.

The former A.E.C. chairman maintains that the "magic formula" for victory, "Drop an A-bomb," could plague the effort to strengthen and balance the nation's military defences.

* * *

He warns the public not to be misled because of the H-bomb. "No such weapon now exists," he states flatly. "Whether there ever will be is only a remote possibility."

Lilienthal says he refers to the H-bomb only to illustrate how dangerously far the country had drifted prior to Korea in its reliance "upon one and only one means of protecting this country and furthering the peace of the world."

"The ignition of hydrogen, and weapons based upon that ignition, is only a remote possibility. It is a possibility that may well grow more remote rather than less."

* * *

Lilienthal reveals that in all the "weary" months and years of (peace) discussion and negotiations, Russia has given no indication that it would consider any plan which would breach the walls sealing her off against the world.

"The issue of war or no war is not our decision alone. It is possible that the Russian and Chinese leaders want to precipitate a vast war. They may believe that now is the time to unleash the chaos and terror that their dogma teaches is necessary for their revolutionary ends.

"It may be, therefore, that there is nothing to negotiate, nothing to adjust, no concessions, no compromises that would change their predetermined course."

Lilienthal admits our reluctance to go to war may lead to miscalculations for Russion leaders that will be even more serious for them than for us.

"If they underestimate the power of America to wage war, to devastate Russian cities, they will have made an error that will never be forgotten. They will have caused the erasure of most of the industrial progress built with such pride and such deprivation by the people of Russia.

"A war with Russia would be terrible, bloody, costly, and heartbreaking, but if we must, we can and will fight."

Travelogue . . . With Wrinkles

(From The Globe and Mail, Toronto)

A PRUNE can go a long way in the world today. The current issue of the Canadian Grocer tells of the strange wanderings of some prunes which grew in California, rested temporarily in Holland, and finally landed on Canadian grocery shelves. It seems to illustrate that in these days of involved international dealings there may be some uncertainties even for a prune.

These prunes were bought by the United States Government in California. They were sold to Holland. To make the price right, Washington paid a subsidy of 40 per cent on the small prunes and 30 per cent on the larger ones. Holland did not want all the prunes it bought. But it did want dollars. The Dutch shipped about 25,000 cases of the prunes to Canada at a lower price than Canadian buyers could get them directly from California.

Thus the buyers with the Duten prunes had a price advantage over those with the direct-from-California prunes. And the California fruit-growers were annoyed because if these prunes had not gone to Holland at a subsidized price and back to Canada at a below-normal price, the growers would have been able to sell more prunes to Canada at a higher price. It was stipulated in the first place that the prunes sold to Holland could not be shipped back to the United States. There was no ban on their being sent to Canada, however.

Somehow it seems appropriate that a new wrinkle in international commerce should concern prunes.

Wonderful confusion prevails in Ottawa; and if it's a question of what to do first, how about stabilizing the stabilizers?

A superintendent of schools visited a night-school for adults. He was called upon to congratulate an old woman. She had enrolled at the start of the course with a single, avowed intent—to learn to write her name. She had succeeded, and the course was at an end, and she was leaving. The next year the superintendent visited the same school. The old woman had enrolled again. "Why?" he asked her.

"I'm going to learn to write my name," she said.

"But you learned that last year."

"I knows that. But now"—and she swelled with pride—"now I've gone and got married."

"LIKE to hear some music? Any preferences?" a Fairfield resident asked an amateur radio man who arrived to spend a quiet evening. "Fine. How about some organ selections?" the guest replied. It did not take long to slip a dozen records by various organists on the spindle of a large radio-phonograph. All went well until the electronic pickup moved to a selection of many years ago entitled "My Blue Heaven". A succession of sour notes almost like a howling gale emerged from the twin loudspeakers, and the host quickly flipped a switch to the "reject" position. "Probably a hair or some fluff on the needle," he explained, as he dusted it lightly with a handkerchief. "Come to think of it, that record has pulled the same trick before," he added. A few minutes later another record combining an organ and harmonica band also emitted some weird notes. The host pushed the rejection switch again and asked the radio man if he had any idea what caused the music to go sour. When the 12th record had been played and the machine turned itself off with a sharp click, the radio man asked his host to pass over the two offending records. "Why do you always wipe both sides of every record with a handkerchief before putting them on the machine?" he asked. "Because there is so much dust from the furnace in this room. They sound better when they are clean," the host explained. "Those two records are plastic, and they accumulate a charge of static electricity every time you wipe them. That is what causes the distorted music. Touch the edge of each on the metal fire screen or furnace grating before putting them on the player and you will have no more trouble," the radio man advised. The remedy worked perfectly.

The Packsack

By GREGORY CLARK

THE Winter climate of Canada is too sharp for most bats. Thus every Fall, along with the birds streaking south, goes an incongruous pilgrimage of some millions of bats of various sizes and species, wavering, flopping and staggering through the night air, bent on getting far enough south to escape the deep freeze.

They probably do not cover much distance in a night, and keep wobbling southward in short stitches, though migrating flocks of bats have been noted a hundred or more miles at sea. The little brown bat, which is found from Labrador to Alaska, and southward as far as the Central States, is common around towns and villages, and suburban gardens. From its northern ranges, it will migrate some hundreds of miles, in the East down to Kentucky and Pennsylvania, where it hibernates in ancestrally located caves; and in the West, down into British Columbia where, if it can't find caves, it can always locate a cosy wintering spot under the bark of a dead fir.

The big brown bat, which still isn't as big as a mouse, and the hoar bat, which is the biggest of all our bats and quite a prize to behold as it sweeps on long narrow wings in the dusk over a northern lake, are greater travelers from Winter. The hoary bat Summers right into the Arctic, and comes down perhaps at least beyond the Great Lakes for the Winter, probably deeper south. These mammals with skin wings do a pretty good job of imitating birds in their annual travels.

A few do their hibernating around warm barns and houses. They really sink into oblivion. Their temperature drops to a couple of degrees above freezing, in really cold weather; and they breathe once every five minutes or so. Hanging head down, by their insignificant toenails or by their long index fingernails on the folded-back wing, they must have been a sheer whim at the Creation. And the angels must have shuddered at the spectacle of the uncountable millions of them hung all over one another like swarming bees on the walls of the abysmal caves of Texas.

Looking Back

Through Colonist Files

25 YEARS AGO — Contract for construction of two ferry slips at Victoria for the Canadian National Railways, one at Ogden Point and the other at Point Ellice, has been awarded to Pacific Engineers Ltd., Vancouver.

50 YEARS AGO—Another of the acts passed by the last session of the Legislature aimed against cheap Asiatic labor has been brought into effect by the Provincial Government. This is known as the Labor Regulation Act, and is similar to the Immigration Act now being enforced against Japanese immigrants.

85 YEARS AGO—A general feeling of indignation prevails against those members of the Assembly who, either for love of opposition or for some unaccountable reason, uprooted our common school system by refusing to vote the money needed for rent of school houses.

Scottish Organizations in City To Attend St. Andrew's Service

Plans for New Church Shown

A unanimous vote of confidence in the vicar, Rev. William Hills, was passed Monday night by the annual general meeting of St. George's Church, Cadboro Bay.

Members of the congregation were shown plans of the new church and were told that tenders for construction of the building will be called for by January 28.

Mr. Hills announced that he had asked Col. R. L. Mitchell to continue as rector's warden for the coming year. Lieut.-Col. Eric Parker was unanimously re-elected people's warden.

Appreciation was expressed to the Ladies' Guild for its work last year, when it raised more than $2,000. It was reported that the guild also had $1,000 in the bank for the furnishing fund.

The A.Y.P.A. was thanked for its work both in and outside the church.

COMMITTEES NAMED

The following committees and representatives were elected:

Church committee: Dr. Richard Spicer, C. E. Atter, H. M. Smith, George Gregory, Major D. L. McKeand, Mrs. Hamilton Stubbs, Mrs. R. N. Hincks, Miss M. Turner, Peter Holmes, Arnold Edmunds.

Fathers' Night at Quadra

About 100 parents and friends of the Quadra P.-T.A. gathered in the school auditorium on Tuesday evening for the annual Fathers' night. Among those present was Mayor Percy George, who spoke briefly.

A short business meeting preceded the fun, with Mrs. C. Connors, first vice-president, in the chair owing to the resignation of the president, Mr. L. Rimmer, who has moved from Victoria. Mr. C. F. Swannell was elected to act as president for the remaining part of the year.

At the close of the business, Mr. F. Harkness, magician, entertained for an hour with feats of magic; then followed an hour of games, convened by Mr. O. Southron. At the close of the evening, the fathers served a delicious supper of fish and chips and coffee.

Conveners were Mr. R.: N. Grubb, Mr. C. F. Swannell, Mr. D. Easelmont and Mr. O. Southron.

Entertain Alumni Members

Dr. and Mrs. Hermann Robertson, 1549 Clive Drive, were hosts to members of the Victoria Chapter of the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto Alumni last evening.

An interesting and entertaining program was enjoyed by the members and special guests who included Mr. Hans Gruber and Mr. and Mrs. F. Chubb.

The program consisted of vocal solos by Miss Winona Denys, talented young soprano from Toronto, accompanied by Mrs. John Gough; organ solos by Miss Joyce Richardson; the first movement of the Greig Concerto in "A" Minor played by Mrs. Stanley Tidbury at the piano and Mr. Edgar Holloway at the organ. Miss Isabelle Pike, soprano, Mrs. Walter Ellers, violin and Mrs. W. B. Milburn, organ, also entertained as a trio.

Mrs. D. L. Gilbert extended the vote of thanks.

At the close of the program the hostess served refreshment. Mrs. T. H. Johns and Miss Dorothy Ells presided at the tea and coffee urns.

Miss Frena Aitkens Honored

GANGES, B.C., Jan. 26.—A reception in honor of Miss Frena Aitkens under the convenership of Mrs. Austin Wells of the Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. C. Faire and Miss Josephine Overend was held on Wednesday afternoon at Harbor House, Ganges.

On arrival, Miss Aitkens was the recipient of a corsage of pink carnations and following a short speech by Mr. C. W. Dawson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and his introduction of Miss E. Walker, district traffic superintendent, and Miss E. Warburton, district traffic chief of Victoria, Miss Aitkens, in turn, introduced the new local representative for Salt Spring Island, Miss E. L. Turner.

Mr. Gavin C. Mouat, on behalf of the residents of Salt Spring Island, presented the guest of honor with a watch inscribed with her name and a purse. In his accompanying speech Mr. Mouat expressed his pleasure at making the presentation to Miss Aitkens, who had so faithfully and cheerfully served the people of Salt Spring Island for nearly thirty years. He referred to the old days and the difficulties confronting her at that time when she had to get in touch with doctor or police single-handed and in those cases of emergency, doing her job quickly and efficiently, he wished her all happiness in whatever her intended future might be. On behalf of the Salt Spring Island telephone staff he also presented her with a framed friendship scroll with suitable verse and names of telephone operators inscribed, surrounded by some lovely floral water colors. The gift was entirely the work of Miss Turner. In addition Miss Aitkens received a large box of chocolates for her mother, Mrs. George Aitkens, who was unable to be present.

Refreshments were served at a long table covered with a hand-made lace cloth and centred with a silver bowl of lovely pink roses and carnations, flanked by silver candelabra with green tapers. Pouring tea were Miss Walker, Miss Warburton, Mrs. Cecil Springford, Mrs. J. Mitchell, Miss E. Turner, Mrs. C. W. Dawson, Mrs. A. J. Hepburn and assisting with serving: Mrs. J. Bradford, Mrs. D. A. Boyes, Mrs. J. H. Deyell, Mrs. Dorothy Fanning, Mrs. M. Fellowes, Mrs. Zenen Kropinski, Mrs. Colin Mouat, Mrs. E. Reynolds, Mrs. P. Watson, Mrs. C. Wagg, Miss Sylvia Jackson, Miss June Mitchell, Miss Elsy Price, Miss Josephine Overend, Miss Walker, Miss Warburton, Mrs. J. H. Deyell, also the local telephone staff including Mrs. Bradford, Mrs. Faire, Mrs. Fanning, Miss June Mitchell, Miss Overend, Miss Price, Mrs. Watson, were each presented with a corsage made by Miss Elsy Price.

COMMERCE LUNCHEON

Sponsored by the Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce a luncheon was given last Wednesday at Ganges Inn in honor of Miss Frena Aitkens who, after 27 years as local representative for Salt Spring Island at the B.C. Telephone Exchange, Ganges, retired at the end of last [illegible].

The attractively decorated lunch table was arranged with trails of small leaf ivy and centred with a large silver bowl of daffodils and pussy willows flanked by vases of freesias.

The chair was occupied by Mr. C. W. Dawson, president of the Chamber of Commerce who, in a brief speech, paid a high tribute to Miss Aitkens, Miss E. Walker, district traffic superintendent, then presented the guest of honor with a silver tray on behalf of the Victoria staff accompanying the gift with many good wishes. She referred to how highly Miss Aitkens had been thought of during her long association with the telephone as Salt Spring Island agent and hoped she would now be able to enjoy her future rest and leisure.

Others present at the luncheon were: Miss E. Warburton, district traffic chief, Victoria; Mrs. K. Bradford, Mrs. I. Devine, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hepburn, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Mouat, Mrs. Austin Wells, Miss Josephine Overend, Miss E. Turner, Mr. Gavin C. Mouat, Mr. McFaille, Mr. J. Barker.

Guides Receive Work Awards At Salt Spring

Nanaimo Chamber Hits Secondary Road Policy

—NEWS FROM ISLAND CENTRES—

NANAIMO, Jan. 26—The Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce has expressed opposition to the policy of spending all available money on main highways and letting secondary roads slip into a state of impassability.

After hearing from the district engineer, the chamber decided it would take the matter further through George S. Pearson, M.L.A.

Several members went along with a view expressed at Cowichan that main highways should be given a holiday for a few months in order to bring secondary roads back to shape.

The chamber also continued to voice confidence that the addition to Nanaimo's Assembly Wharf would go through.

ELECTS SPEEDY TRIAL

NANAIMO.—Gordon Joseph White, charged with housebreaking, elected speedy trial before Judge L. A. Hanna in County Court Friday.

The hearing was set for February 1, in County Court.

The Crown will be represented by C. Murray Reynolds, and A. G. MacKinnon, New Westminster, is defending White.

* * *

HEAVY RAINFALL

Some 30,000,000 gallons of rain fell on Nanaimo in the last 24 hours, Lamont Ross, weather recorder, estimated today.

The rainfall measured 1.95 inches over the city which just exceeds a square mile in size.

TO ALERT PUBLIC

ALBERNI.—Somass Branch No. 169, Canadian Legion will set up "operation preparedness" designed to alert the public to the urgency for preparation of Canada's defences.

Details of the plan will be heard at the next meeting of the branch, Tuesday, at 8 p.m., in the Alberni Legion Hall. Capt. Wright, 197 Battery, will give an address of "Reserve Forces."

* * *

ANNUAL MEETING

PORT ALBERNI.—Annual general meeting of the Seamen's Haven of Port Alberni will be held in the Haven on Tuesday, at 8 p.m. Officers will be elected.

A short time ago a financial committee was set up to help in providing the necessary funds to maintain the Haven and it has been successful to the extent of ensuring operation under this scheme for a year or more.

* * *

CONTRACT ACCEPTED

ALBERNI.—Alberni City Council has been notified by Commissioner S. T. Wood of the R.C.M.P. that it will not be necessary for the city to appoint a public prosecutor.

R.C.M.P. constables will handle all cases in police court. In the event that it is absolutely necessary that a prosecutor be obtained, city solicitor Bob Ohs will be available.

The 1951 contract has been accepted.

PROJECTS SUCCESSFUL

SHAWNIGAN LAKE.—The report of the Women's Auxiliary of the Shawnigan Lake United Church at the recent annual congregational meeting shows the organization to have been successful in its four main projects in 1950.

The group assisted financially with necessary repairs to the manse at Koksilah, sent one of the young people to the church camp at Cultus Lake, donated one quarter's supplies to the Sunday School and contributed to the missionary and maintenance fund. Appreciation was expressed to Rev. W. G. Challis for the work during the past year.

* * *

SPECIAL MEETING

SHAWNIGAN LAKE.—Shawnigan Lake Chamber of Commerce was notified of a special roads committee meeting to be held in Nanaimo. The chamber will send a representative.

The deputy minister of public works wrote that lack of funds is hindering the proposed realignment of the Shawnigan Lake-Cobble Hill Road at Beeson's Bridge.

* * *

DIRECTORS NAMED

SOOKE. — Four directors were chosen at a recent meeting of the Sooke Farmers' Institute. They were Phillip Wieford, Hugh Piggott, Ernest W. Welsh and D. Worthington. A president will be chosen from the board of directors later. Rex Kendrew was asked to continue as secretary.

A motion was passed that the Autumn fair be held again this year at Sooke. Gordon Nixon was invited to act as secretary-treasurer of the fair.

* * *

RE-ELECTED

SOOKE.—S. C. Davies, rector's warden, H. C. Gates, people's warden, were both re-elected at the recent annual meeting of Holy Trinity Church.

The church committee for 1951 includes Denis H. Chivers, F. Goddard, Capt. Neville Fairweather, Harry Pickering, Frank S. Mackie, F. L. Paddon, Mrs. Emily Nixon, Mrs. H. L. Roberson, Mrs. E. G. Hooper and Mrs. W. E. Peters.

Mr. Chivers and Mr. Paddon were chosen synod and rural-decanal delegates. Mr. Goddard and Mr. Pickering were appointed side men. Mr. Hooper will serve as auditor.

Floods Wash Salmon Onto Road

Michael David, visiting gillnet fisherman from the Fraser River, picked his supper off the road near Comiaken Village Thursday during the flooding of the Koksilah River. Long stretches of the Cowichan Bay Road were under two to four feet of water. Michael stepped two feet off the road to pick this 13-pound dog salmon out of the reeds at roadside after the big fish floundered across the road.

Defence Plan for Port Alberni Outlined

PORT ALBERNI, Jan. 26. — A nominating committee of ten will arrange the appointment of a chief of staff for civil defence here.

The committee includes Major G. S. Wright, Ralph Jay, S. A. King, Sidney Coggles, William Burnip, R. Minorgan, Fire Chief W. P. Venables, Wally Connerton, Ray Lebrasseur and Frank Graham.

The committee will meet next Wednesday.

Called by Alderman W. C. Hamilton, temporary civil defence chairman, the meeting was addressed by Peter Maffeo, civil defence chief of Nanaimo.

Port Alberni, said Mr. Maffeo, could be in a target lane, but not in a target area. But even being in a target lane — through which an enemy would travel to get to a target area — with great industries in the woods and on the waterfront and with a big residential area, an enemy could make it "quite uncomfortable" for the citizens here.

Mr. Maffeo said fire was the chief hazard. It would be necessary to organize first aiders, ambulances, trucks, temporary hospitals, food supplies, bedding, and make arrangements for evacuation if necessary.

Foundation of defence, said Mr. Maffeo, was an advisory board of a cross section of these services.

For Port Alberni, he suggested two plans, Plan A divides the city into zones, each under an elected body which would prepare its zone in case of an alert.

Mr. Maffeo suggested setting up three zones in the business and residential area and six zones along the industrial waterfront.

A central headquarters staff, the nerve centre for civil defence, would be appointed by the chief of staff and would include a deputy chief and the chairmen of the various zones.

In the event of war being imminent Plan B would go into operation, throwing defence forces into high gear. Replacement of men going into the armed forces and into war industries would be necessary. Plan A was the most important at the present time, immediate organization being necessary.

In conclusion, Mr. Maffeo said "I came here to lay this important matter before you so that you can prepare yourselves for something that we hope will never happen."

Civil Defence Register Of Nurses to Be Kept

NANAIMO, Jan. 26. — Nanaimo nurses today were asked to register for civil defence.

The Nanaimo chapter of the Registered Nurses' Association sent out the call to registered nurses as well as to women with nursing experience and training.

"Come On In!

We've just put the kettle on for tea"

Take a few minutes out for refreshing afternoon tea. Then resume your task—cheered, relaxed!

Have it every afternoon at home or in any restaurant.

TEA TIP: Experts recommend one teaspoonful of tea per person and "one for the pot".

Horticulturist Guest Speaker

CHEMAINUS, Jan. 26.—E. W. White, Provincial horticulturist, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Chemainus Garden Club this week.

Mr. White gave practical demonstrations of pruning in the gardens of Mrs. Mary Crucil, Ladysmith, in the morning, and of Mrs. S. Clement, Chemainus, in the afternoon. About 40 members attended the evening meeting.

Mr. White pointed out that now was the best time for pruning and that April was preferable for most cleft, bud and bark grafts.

Mr. White advised the use of sticky resin bands, similar to fly paper and placed about the bases of fruit trees as an effective check to earwigs and ants. Sacking saturated with commercial earwig or pest bait was also recommended.

Mrs. Ely Culbertson Compares Blue Bonnet —Won't Go Without It!

Here's a hint from Mrs. Ely Culbertson. Compare BLUE BONNET Margarine with any spread at any price. Like the bridge expert's wife, you'll love BLUE BONNET's fresh sweet flavor! Rich nutrition! Real economy! Buy BLUE BONNET Margarine and get "all three" Flavor! Nutrition! Economy!

Blue Bonnet margarine is sold in two types — regular economy package with color wafer and also in the famous YELLOW QUIK bag for fast, easy color.

Island Cows Top Producers

Vancouver Island Ayrshires have again captured top honors in Dominion milk production tests.

According to the latest record-of-production lists, Swallowfield Gem, owned by P. C. Morris, Nanoose Bay, placed second in a class of 57 cows required to calve again within 13 months. She produced 11,504 pounds of milk, testing 4.44 per cent butterfat.

Other cows on the honor list were: Haughland Xmas, H. Dawson & Son, Nanoose Bay, 10,413 pounds, 4.33 per cent butterfat; Edenbank Milkmaid, first in the three-year-old class, Dawson & Son, 12,359 pounds, 4.55 per cent butterfat.

Ten other Island cows had creditable production records.

For Bad Cough, Mix This Splendid Recipe, at Home

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this easily prepared mixture and try it for a distressing cough. It is no trouble to mix, and costs but a trifle, yet it can be depended upon to give quick relief.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water until dissolved. No cooking needed. (Or use corn syrup or liquid honey instead of sugar syrup.) Get a 2½ ounce bottle of Pinex from any druggist, put it into a 16 ounce bottle and fill it up with your syrup. The 16 ounces thus made gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money, and is a very effective relief for coughs. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

This splendid mixture soothes the irritated membranes, loosens the phlegm and helps to clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known as a soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if not pleased in every way.

FOR EXTRA CONVENIENCE GET NEW, READY-TO-USE, PREPARED PINEX.

London Market Turnover Light

LONDON, Jan. 26 (Reuters).—Price movements were small and mixed on the London Stock Exchange today.

With institutional interests in British funds negligible, the section showed dullness while digesting recent new loans and awaiting some indication of the substantial loan in connection with the nationalization of the steel industry, due early next month.

Industrials were mixed but mainly a little firmer. Textiles met a small demand and there were gains in the miscellaneous leaders.

White Witch Doctor

CHAPTER XXIV

Then it was all over. There were three lions dead. Lions as full of spears as a dressmaker's pin cushion is of pins. I wondered who had been hurt and how badly; I started down the pet hill, but was stopped peremptorily. There were more pictures to be taken, and I must not get in the way.

The intrepid explorer's parts in the lion hunt must be shown. Then the woman was posed, aiming her gun at a dead lion propped up on stones about nine feet in front of her, its tail lashing about as a boy on either side of the beast alternately jerked hidden strings. Finally our visitors had enough. In, less than an hour they were gone, leaving us to gather up our dead and injured. At last all the suffering were cared for, and I turned to the four bodies lying beneath funeral mats under the thatched eaves of the palaver hut.

O dear God! A dozen hands reached out to touch me — just to brush my body with their fingertips. A score of voices murmured gentle words. Then — then I could only stand and stare into the face of what had once been Mata Kwan. Mata Kwan, the boy who in a small way had taken the place of a son in my old maid's heart. Mata Kwan, the little Son-of-a-Goat.

"How did it happen?" I whispered. Twinkling fingers tried to count for me the number of animals that had escaped. "Each beast as it broke through the circle of hunters left its mark upon some man."

"And Mata Kwan was brave; he rushed forward like an experienced hunter. He left his spear in simba" [illegible]

I wondered — the child had carried nothing but a thornwood stick with a point he himself had hardened in the fire. Still, he would have tried; Aganza had made a man of him.

I turned suddenly, "Does Aganza know?" I asked. Only then did I realize that Aganza had not helped me in the hospital all afternoon. "Where is she?" My companions looked at each other, at my feet, at their own feet, and one by one slipped away from the palaver hut.

I walked back to my dukas repeating monotonously: "I must find Aganza. I must find Aganza." There was a slight cough outside my door. I pushed the mosquito netting aside and found Jackie.

"Mama, while you were busy with the injured this afternoon, N'Devli danced in front of Mother Aganza's hut." So that was it! N'Devli, the witch doctor, had at last found an opportunity to wreak his malice on me.

Daily Astrology

By RITA DEL MAR

SATURDAY, JANUARY 27, 1951

Today's quotation: "If you would understand your own age, read the works of fiction produced in it. People in disguise speak freely."—Arthur Helps.

Saturday for everyone: Make this a day of rest, light recreation; avoid hazards, irritability, particularly in the late evening. Things begin to "look up" after 11:10 p.m.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below:

March 21 to April 19—(Aries) Others will want to set the pace and enjoy prominence; fall in with them. Do not force issues.

April 20 to May 20—(Taurus) Seek the support of those who can be of service or give aid. Stress carefulness; be diet-wise.

May 21 to June 20—(Gemini) Gain some relaxation during day, but shun risks, wastefulness.

June 21 to July 22—(Cancer) Get at the day's schedule early if possible. Conquer irritability, make no drastic changes.

July 23 to August 22—(Leo) Be diplomatic, especially with kinfolk, neighbors. Use care en route and in commercial dealings.

August 23 to September 22—(Virgo) Morning: use belongings and funds to advantage. Evening: be judicious about spending.

September 23 to October 22—(Libra) Catch an extra forty winks this morning. Forward personal interests but be discreet; "go slow."

October 23 to November 21—(Scorpio) Survey the scene; get the "lay of the land"; draw up today's schedule ahead of time. Keep clear of trouble.

November 22 to December 21—(Sagittarius) Justify the faith others put in you. Don't mix friendships, money matters.

December 22 to January 19—(Capricorn) Find enrichment through dedication to lofty principles. Use tact, discretion.

January 20 to February 18—(Aquarius) Use discretion and care in transit. Be reticent re overall plans.

February 19 to March 20—(Pisces) Co-ordinate effort, partnership help, but use care; play safe. Apportion the bill for evening fun with others.

Planning ahead—Good for sociability, entertaining, etc.: January 29, 30; February 5, 6, 7, 10, 12.

Pass	4 ♠	Pass	Pass
Pass

West could have made five clubs by guessing perfectly in the heart suit, and East probably should have gone on to that contract, if only as a save. It was simply East-West's good fortune that a sacrifice turned out to be unnecessary.

West laid down the club king and, on East's play of the ten, followed up with the club ace. South ruffed; then he led a diamond to the ace and returned a low diamond, hoping that West would win this trick. Unfortunately for North-South, East had the diamond king, and his automatic heart return through South's king defeated the contract.

An extremely simple manoeuvre would have produced the effect that South sought—that of establishing dummy's diamonds without letting East gain the lead. South should have conceded the second trick to West's ace of clubs, discarding a diamond from the closed hand! Observe how easy this would have made matters for South. West could not do better than to lay down the heart ace, getting that trick home for his side. If, not wanting to give up, West shifted to spades or diamonds, South could easily establish the diamond suit via two ruffs, and without taking the slightest risk of East's getting in for the heart shift.

So much for South's opportunity. West had an opportunity of his own—to prevent the sort of thing just cited, by leading a low club after cashing the king, or by not continuing the suit at all.

NO. 39—NINETY-THIRD YEAR — VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SATURDAY, JANUARY 27, 1951

Winning the Hard Way

A.P. Wirephoto

Cuba's Kid Gavilan (right) takes head-shaking left to jaw from tough Paddy Young of New York's Greenwich Village in final round of their ten-round fight at Madison Square Garden last night. Decision was split decision although referee Mark Conn saw it as draw at 6-6, rounds and points. One judge called it 9-1 for Gavilan and other judge scored it 6-4 in favor of Cuban.

Old-Time Basketball Stars Trounce Present-Victoria High Totems, 60-47

Members of Victoria High School basketball teams dating back to 1910 were the honored guests at a reunion banquet at the school last night.

The Old Timers then stepped into the gym and the former stars thrilled a capacity crowd for a game against the present Big Four team and the veterans emerged with a convincing 60-47 triumph in one of the fastest and most entertaining basketball games ever played in Victoria. The Old-Timers won the game by scoring 24 points in the second half to take possession of the lead for the first time. They scored four successive long shots to [illegible] Totems, who played their opponents with a first-quarter lead. Old-Timers held a 19-11 lead but the aging veterans found the range in the second period and the former stars were in front 29-21 at the half.

Hank Rowe showed that he has lost none of his ability at the pivot post as he tortured the Totems with a sparkling performance netting ten baskets in the second half to take scoring honors with 24 points. Jack Shiels scored four successive long shots to keep the Old-Timers in front for a while but the Old-Timers couldn't quite get started to a fast pace.

ADDED ENTERTAINMENT

After looking over the veterans, the veterans treated the fans to some entertaining display of basketball dribbling and clowning with former Dominion stars Art and Chuck Chapman, Hughie Johnson and Rowe in the starring role.

Parks Andrews came down from Alberni and followed Rowe in the scoring department for the Vets with 12 points. George Wootton was high man for the Totems with 13.

Chet Kennedy posted up 19 points to lead Senior girls students to a 47-28 triumph over the present students in the preliminary.

Line-ups follow.

Old Timers—A. Chapman 1, C. Chapman 10, Rowe 24, Dale 2, Jackson 4, Andrews 12, McKechnie 7. Total 60.

Totems—Zarry 10, Woollett 13, Oakley 5, Forbes 6, Jahraus, Donnahue, Abbott, Whan, Burton 2, Clarke, Pyne 2, Shields 11. Total 47.

IT BEATS ME

By Jim Tang

Despite the shaky start occasioned by internal differences the usual hit-and-miss Coast Soccer League scheduling which makes it impossible for a Victoria team to build up and sustain interest, and the resulting financial difficulties, Victoria United has succeeded in earning considerable respect for the calibre of Victoria football this season.

Not yet quite ready to consistently beat the best, United is only a player or two away from top rank and it is not at all beyond the bounds of reasonable imagination to believe it possible for the club to win either the Province Cup or the right to represent the city in the Connaught Cup playdowns—or even both.

This has been accomplished with the importation of only one player and the liberal use of veterans, which has made the club the youngest in the C.S.L. All of the players with the exception of Wallace Milligan are Victoria products. Kept together and bolstered with the best of the talent coming up from junior ranks, United should reach that top rank soon, perhaps as early as next season.

Credit for the fine first-year showing must be shared by Manager Tom Reated and Coach George Kulai. They may have made some mistakes and there may have been times when they didn't exactly see eye to eye, but they have worked at their job with purpose and determination. The result has been a promising club which is fast learning to play football the way it should be played and applying its lessons well on the field. It would be a shame if the same two men were not able, or did not choose, to complete the fine work which they have started.

There is some doubt in my mind that both, or even one, will undertake to carry on for another season without considerable persuasion. But there must be few who don't believe that they should be back at the helm again next season. It is because of the obviousness of this that I hope that a report that one prominent club official recently proposed that United get a new manager and coach to handle the club for the balance of the season is not correct. The report stated that his proposal did not get very far but it makes one wonder how long a person can get with the sport he is presumably trying to build up by badly needing men of ability willing to give so unsparingly of their time.

Western Athlete Centre Of Dispute on Eligibility

TORONTO Jan 26 CP — How long should a college athlete be permitted to play for his alma mater?

That question, raised Thursday in a new settlement of rivalry between the University of Toronto and London University of Western Ontario brought varied reaction from sport executive officials.

It seemed a good bet, though, that the result of the furore might be a new ruling by governing bodies of amateur sport for college sport.

Right now there is no limit on the number of years a post-graduate may keep his finger in the athletic pie.

Warren Stevens, athletic director of the University of Toronto touched off the latest fireworks with a statement that he is considering recommending that the college sever athletic relations with Western.

CLAIMED INELIGIBLE

Stevens charged Thursday that Bob Phibbs was ineligible for Western basketball team. Phibbs is working toward a master's degree in business administration at Western from which he graduated in 1948.

Stevens said the 23-year-old Phibbs is not a full time student and is paid for part time lectures.

Phibbs, who played for the Western basketball team, is now employed by Canada Packers Limited in London.

Frank Jarvis, athletic director of Queen's University said today at Kingston that Phibbs eligibility is "strictly a matter to be decided by the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union executive."

D. Matthews, W. Ghent, McGill University athletic director said in Montreal he is "not one more very much who we should have a common rule to cut short the [illegible]

U.S. Navy Ship Due On Visit Here Today

MARINE AND TRAVEL NEWS

An American destroyer escort, U.S.S. Rombach is scheduled to dock at Esquimalt today on an operational visit, the Navy announced yesterday.

The reserve training ship, stationed in the Seattle naval district, is expected to dock at 2 p.m. She will leave Sunday.

Commanded by Lt.-Cmdr. W. T. Davern, U.S.N., the Rombach has made several previous visits to this port.

RESUMES VOYAGE

The coastal freighter Island Connector has resumed her interrupted journey to Victoria, and is expected here Sunday, according to C.P.R. officials.

The Connector, which will sail this coast under a new name, Yukon Princess, was held up at San Francisco by bad weather.

Commanded by Capt. George A. Thomson, the ship will replace the Nootka, sold to Peruvian interests. She has been operating between the St. Lawrence River and Newfoundland.

HERRING BONANZA

After two weeks of discouraging catches, British Columbia's herring fleet has struck a baby bonanza at Kilidit Sound on the northern coast.

More than 3,000 tons of fish was taken in one day by the first few seiners that discovered the run. Today the rest of the 150-boat fleet left Barkley Sound and the inlets on the west coast of Vancouver Island for the scene of the big catches.

The sound is at the southern tip of Hunter Island, opposite Bella Bella.

Fisheries officials said 13,000 tons remain of the central subdistrict quota where the bonanza was found. Heavy fishing may clean up the quota in four or five days.

Await Ruling On Appeal By Juveniles

The British Columbia Court of Appeal yesterday reserved judgment in the appeal of two Vancouver juveniles against conviction on a charge of purse-snatching.

The two were sentenced to Borstal terms of six months definite and 12 months indefinite by Vancouver Police Magistrate Oscar Orr.

A. E. Branca, K.C., counsel for the appellants, argued yesterday that the two had not been satisfactorily identified at the trial as the persons responsible for the theft.

Appeal of Joseph Arthur Oullette, Manitoba man fighting for his life in connection with the November, 1949, killing of two Okanagan Chinese market gardeners, will open Monday.

Oullette was convicted of the murder of Lee On last November by a Vernon assize jury and sentenced by Mr. Justice J. M. Coady to be hanged.

Booting Of Bevan Sensation

LONDON, Jan. 27. (Saturday) (Reuters).—Two London newspapers today splashed an account of a peer's son kicking Labor Minister Aneurin Bevan in the pants in front of one of London's most exclusive gentlemen's clubs.

The burly Socialist Cabinet Minister allegedly was booted as he was leaving the club with R.A.F. Marshal Sir John Slessor, chief of air staff.

The Daily Express identified the assailant as John Fox-Strangways, 43, son of Lord Ilchester.

OUT

The Daily Mail carried no name but said "the attacker" was "no longer a member of the club."

The club is White's. The attack was said to have occurred last Wednesday night.

Both papers reported that Bevan has "acted with restraint."

They also agreed that Sir John, Bevan's host at the club, had lodged a complaint with the club's board. The Mail said the club had apologized to Bevan.

Fox-Strangways is a member of one of Britain's oldest families. The motto inscribed on the family crest is: "Faire Sans Dire," which means "Deeds Without Words."

Foresters Install New Officers

Installation of officers for the Independent Order of Foresters, Court Garden City, No. 335, took place at the Newstead Hall recently. M. C. Earle, past chief ranger of Court Victoria, No. 1004, officiated, assisted by Reg Attwell, chief ranger, and Percy Frampton, vice-chief ranger, of Court Victoria. The district manager, Don Branter, gave a short talk entitled, "The True Meaning of Greatness." The ceremony was followed up by a box social and dancing. Officers installed were: Chief ranger, Bill Rees; vice-chief ranger, Maurice Simpson; past chief ranger, Doug Wood; organist, Winnie Smele; orator, Peggy Price; court deputy, George McIlveen; P. fraternal work, Edward Sage; recording secretary, Dot Page; financial secretary, Wilma Rees; treasurer, Bob Carr; senior woodward, Ed McKinty, junior woodward, Stan Clark; senior beadle, Jean Price; junior Beadle, Art Comley; director juvenile work, Bernice Simpson; court physician, Dr. Chris Moore.

Weather Forecasts

East Coast of Vancouver Island — Variable cloudiness today. Scattered snow flurries and much colder. Wind northeast at 25 m.p.h. down Mainland inlets, otherwise light. Sunday outlook—Clear and cold.

West Coast of Vancouver Island — Clear and colder. Winds light, northerly. Sunday outlook—Sunny and colder.

EALING, Middlesex, England (CP).—Visitors think the local police are pretty resourceful. A circus wagon stopping suddenly on a hill threw an elephant it was carrying out of the back. Police coaxed and pushed the monster back, all in the line of duty.

Sioux Leaves This for Honolulu

—CP Photo.

Canadian destroyer Sioux yesterday reached sunny Honolulu, but only a few days earlier the men had worked like this on their last Korean patrol. Shown are Leading Seaman Russel Martin and Able Seaman John Parent greasing 40mm. shells to prevent corrosion.

Home Topmost Thought For All Aboard Sioux

"Early in the Korean service, the Sioux came across many junks, daily and nightly. Each was filled with North Korean refugees heading south. Sometimes we would find as many as 30 persons — men, women and children—aboard one sampan," said Lieut.-Cmdr. Benson.

PITIFUL SIGHT

"It was really a pitiful sight. Most of them had no idea where they were going, or how they would get there. We provided them with bread and water, and set them on their way with directions for their safety. A South Korean officer aboard the Sioux served as interpreter."

Recently the destroyer came across a powerless South Korean tug carrying five crewmen and 23 South Koreans. The tug was towed to Inchon, where the Canadians made repairs.

A blazing sun was over Pearl Harbor as the Sioux docked, and the base's naval band struck up "Song of the Islands" as she slipped in. A troupe of hula girls performed on the dockside and were given a rousing ovation by the Sioux men.

NEW "DECORATIONS"

Officers of the base welcomed the ship and her men, and complimented them on "a job well done."

Many of the men were sporting brilliant new tattoos, applied at Hongkong, and great bushy beards which have been growing since the ship left Esquimalt. Top beard honors go to A.B. Ronald Morton and L.S. Gordon Bjorgan.

Petty Officer Cook Arthur Cowden said mail deliveries to the ship had been discouragingly slow at first, but were soon greatly improved. All the men agreed that Christmas and New Year's had been good, considering their circumstances. They all had nothing but praise for the food and general living conditions aboard their ship.

"She is the best living ship the R.C.N. has ever had," said P.O. Bruce Pakenham. The Sioux is the first Canadian warship to undergo a complete modernization, including cafeteria-style messing and replacement of hammocks with bunks. The men like both changes.

WORST STORM

The Nootka reached its Japanese base January 14. That night saw all four of the Canadian destroyers tied up alongside each other. The Sioux left the following day for Midway and Pearl Harbor.

The worst storm encountered by the Sioux was experienced when the ship was heading from Japan to Hongkong. The typhoon stripped away considerable gear, and had the vessel almost submerged several times.

A total of 12 men became proud and happy fathers during their time in Korean waters. Among them are Lieut. Brant Fotheringham, P.O. R. G. Seager, P.O. A. W. Tassell, C.P.O. C. W. Henderson, L.S. Walter Moeckl, PO. H. C. Offer, LS. Kenneth Hawkins and CPO. Ted Mills.

FULLY SATISFIED

The northernmost point reached by the Sioux was the Yalu River mouth, near the Manchurian border.

Complete satisfaction with the ship and her men has been expressed by Cmdr. Paul D. Taylor, commanding officer. The ship's longest patrol covered 45 days, he reported. Approximately a dozen patrols were carried out.

During their stay at this base the Sioux men will have considerable time ashore, and already many are on shopping tours getting souvenirs for their loved ones at home. Many have rushed to cable messages, and air mail letters are heading home.

That's the most important word —"HOME."

Hobson Wins Speech Contest

With a talk on "Espionage and Counter-Espionage," Gordon Hobson won the club speech contest at a meeting of Victoria Union Toastmasters, No. 331, last night.

Other speakers were Ron Boulden, Jim Brayshaw, Ben Frankling and Bob Abbott. General critic was Jim Brayshaw, and individual critics were Bob Fletcher, Bert Sutton, Gil Langley, Percy Rayment, George Gunniss and Ernie Bayliss.

Toastmaster of the meeting was Ken Tyrrell. He was introduced by the topicmaster, Harry Youson.

Langford Forms P.C. Organization

LANGFORD, Jan. 26.—Possibility of a Progressive Conservative Association branch at Langford appeared imminent when a meeting was held recently to organize a group to embrace Colwood, Langford, Metchosin, View Royal and Happy Valley districts.

Maurice Burbridge and Major Herbert Forster were named temporary chairman and vice-chairman respectively.

A full meeting to elect officers for the new group is scheduled for 8 p.m. February 1, at Colwood Hall.

Vitamin D, obtained from fish liver oils, is necessary for formation of bone and teeth.

"Emma, if you don't shut up, I'll run this car over the next bridge."

"Hey, Pop there's a cop on your tail . . ."

"Harry! Take your eyeys off that blonde and keep them on the road."

Hooks Big One On First Try At Parksville

PARKSVILLE, Jan. 26.—His first attempt at steelhead fishing proved exciting for Bill Hawkins of Sidney, a guest at the Island Hall Hotel here, who caught a 14-pound fish in Little Qualicum River recently. This is one of the largest steelhead to be hooked in this district for some time.

Hawkins was fishing with Cliff Rushton of Parksville, a well-known authority on stream fishing, and hooked the big steelhead on his first cast. It was landed after an exciting battle. Later the same day Hawkins landed another steelhead weighing about eight pounds. He returned home to Sidney voicing loud praise of the angling sport to be found in this part of the Island.

Preview Plans To Celebrate Anniversary

A preview of plans for the celebration of the 60th anniversary of the founding of St. Saviour's Church highlighted the annual vestry meeting held this week under the chairmanship of the vicar, Rev. Douglas Kendell. Anniversary celebrations will take place during the week of April 29 to May 6.

The vicar's report, and those of the various organizations, showed steady and substantial growth in attendance and accomplishments. The most noteworthy single achievement was the installation of a new automatic heating system. Mr. Kendell reappointed A. E. Barnsley as vicar's warden and A. Anderson was re-elected by acclamation as people's warden.

OFFICER'S NAMED

Other officers elected for 1951 include: Church secretary, Howard Goodall; envelope secretary, D. C. Hobbs; church committee, Miss K. Goodall, Mrs. B. Jacklin, Mrs. W. Lowery, Mrs. T. Eastick, Mrs. S. G. Hulford, Mrs. C. White, C. F. Banfield, T. Hughes, R. Hadfield, T. Eastick and C. E. Banfield.

Delegates to the synod: C. F. Banfield, W. Froggart, W. Ashworth, and F. Tate with A. R. Hooper and J. Dee as alternates. Delegates to rural-decanal conference: F. W. Tammadge and C. Clarke. Auditors: F. W. Tammadge, R. Hadfield and C. E. Banfield.

POPULATION INCREASE

PRETORIA, South Africa (CP).—The statistics office here announced the European population of the Union of South Africa has increased by 611,000, or 20 per cent, in the past 14 years. The total population is 12,320,000 compared with 9,630,000 in 1936.

TRADE PIONEER

Sir Jamjetsee Jeejeebhoy, Indian merchant who died in 1859, was the first to open systematic commercial trade with China.

Kersey Eyes Costs

Sees Volunteer Firemen As Possible Necessity

If the cost of fire protection in Saanich continues to soar, Councillor William C. Kersey, finance committee chairman, thinks serious consideration should be given to augmenting the fire department with volunteers.

"Many other municipalities have partially-volunteer departments and operate extremely efficiently," declared Councillor Kersey.

Alarmed at the increasing cost of maintaining the fire department, the councillor said Saanich cannot provide Central Saanich with fire protection for any less than $12,000 annually. If costs go higher, that figure would have to be raised, he contended.

Increasing the strength of the department by four men, he explained, would bring the cost of fire protection to an equivalent of about eight or nine mills. Councillor Kersey noted that the Central Saanich assessment is about $1,250,000. By applying Saanich's present mill rate, the cost of providing protection to the new municipality couldn't possibly be less than $12,000, he stated.

"Central Saanich has said it doesn't want to be subsidized by Saanich. If we provided fire protection at $3,000 as officials of the new municipality believe we could, then we would definitely be subsidizing the new area," declared Councillor Kersey.

Still Rife in Britain

Here Are 'Flu Symptoms; How Do You Feel Now?

LONDON, Jan. 26 (Reuters).—You've read about Britain's flu epidemic, still laying low victims all over the country. But have you ever stopped to think what it's like to have the disease?

Here's a play-by-play description recorded by a sufferer:

1. Awake feeling languid. Decide that a day in bed, flanked by books, cigarettes and hot drinks, is irresistible.

2. Temperature of 101 discovered. Bravely light cigarette, find it tastes like old carpets soaked in vinegar. Depression sets in. Go to sleep.

3. Awake to find appetite gone. Lose interest in books. Try another cigarette—makes you cough. Try warm drink—makes you sick.

4. Sleep again. Wake to find pillows filled with rocks and sheets trying to strangle you. Like that for three days.

5. Temperature down, temper bad. Get up and eat large meal.

6. Back in bed with upset stomach Spend two days of low temperature and high retching.

7. Up again, eating and smoking. May venture a smile in a day or two.

Potato Growers To Discuss Plight

DUNCAN, Jan 26.—Vancouver Island potato growers, alarmed at their narrowing profit margin, will meet here Monday at 2 p.m. in the Legion Hall, to discuss their plight.

Main target of the 400 Island potato farmers is the B.C. Coast Vegetable Marketing Board, which, they say, has raised its distribution charges by more than $8 per ton since last year, in the face of a steady price drop.

An Island association of growers will probably be formed Monday, a spokesman says.

Still Openings In Boys' Choir

Directors of the newly-formed Rotary Boys' Choir have expressed satisfaction with the group's progress to date.

The choir has a complement of 35 boys, but officials say there is room for a few more between the ages of ten and 14. Any boys interested in joining the group may apply today, or a week today, at 757 Pandora Avenue.

When fully formed and ready to perform, the choir will probably be heard at club functions about May 24, and will be taken on an Up-Island tour during the Summer.

Cake Donated To Old-Timers

ALBERNI, Jan. 26. — Anglican Church hall was the scene of the regular monthly meeting of the Alberni Valley Old-Timers' Club, and despite bad weather, 37 members attended the session.

In honor of the birthdays of Mrs. M. A. Miller, George Robinson, Mrs. Mary Cooper, Mr. Bill-Beam, Norris Ledger, Mrs. E. M. Taylor, Mrs. Cyr, A. W. Health and A. Morgan, a beautifully decorated cake donated by the Soroptimist Club was cut.

Three new members were welcomed into the club.

Higher Social-Assistance Grants Sought

Request for a 15-per-cent increase in social allowances was presented to the Provincial Cabinet yesterday by a delegation from the Union of British Columbia Municipalities.

The group suggested that the province pay 12 per cent and the municipalities 3 per cent of the increase. This is roughly the same ratio in which payments are now shared.

Cost-of-living index since 1944, it was pointed out, has risen by 43.6 per cent while the amount paid to social assistance cases had increased over a range of only 20 per cent to 27 per cent. In the same period, old age pensions had been increased by 100 per cent.

A brief presented to the Cabinet said "the present scale of payment made for social assistance is inadequate to properly provide for those entitled to such assistance, resulting in hardship to unfortunate victims of circumstances beyond their control.

"The present scale of social assistance is intended to provide for food, shelter and sundries, the latter including clothing. For instance, the present allowance of $35 to a single person provides $20 for food, $10 for shelter and $5 for sundries."

The delegation said, after the Cabinet meeting, that there appeared little hope that the Government would increase the allowance.

Included in the delegation were Mayor Percy E. George, president; Reeve S. Musmallem, past president; Ald. George C. Miller, Vancouver; Reeve C. Schultz, Surrey; Colin D. McQuarrie, solicitor, and R. R. F. Sewell, secretary-treasurer.

U.N. Seen Facing Test That Destroyed League

The United Nations face the same test today which the League of Nations failed to meet and which brought its downfall as an instrument of peace, according to Cheng Yin Fun, political adviser to the Nationalist Chinese delegation to the U.N.

CHENG YIN FUN

In Victoria yesterday during a world-wide tour, Mr. Cheng, member of the Legislative Yuan, one-time information officer with the United Nations, reporter, dean of law at Canton's Sun Yat-sen University, general secretary of the central committee of the Kuomintang and member of the Kuomintang's 16-member reform committee, spoke to reporters through Victoria interpreter Peter Wong.

DANGER OF FAILURE

Unless the U.N. can unite to brand Communist China as an aggressor in Korea, he said, it is in danger of failing as the League failed in Manchuria and Abyssinia as a force for peace.

"Should the Western world follow up such a declaration with making war on China?" Mr. Cheng was asked.

His reply: The Chinese are now the aggressors, but behind them is Russia, the directing force. Except for a few Moscow-trained officials, the Chinese are not Communists. Many Chinese soldiers are being sent to Korea against their will, to be used as cannon fodder.

EVENTUAL ACTION

Simply declaring Communist China an aggressor, however, would not solve the problem, said Mr. Cheng. Eventually the U.N. must take action against Russia—economic, political and, perhaps, military action. But the U.N. must be able to agree on its smaller problems before it can agree on its larger ones.

If Manchuria hadn't been given to Russia, the Korean War wouldn't have happened, said Mr. Cheng. If provinces adjacent to Indo-China hadn't been lost to Communists, the invasion of Indo-China wouldn't be a fact. If Communists hadn't been allowed to gobble up provinces adjacent to Tibet, Tibet wouldn't have been grabbed without cost. And if Indo-China and similar areas are not lost, there will be no easy road for the Communists into India.

The West, said Mr. Cheng, may be placing too much emphasis on its military potential. With Asia's millions under its control, manpower may become overwhelmingly important in a Communist bid for world power.

Municipalities Ask Vote On Daylight Saving Time

A PROVINCE-WIDE referendum on daylight saving time was asked yesterday by a Union of British Columbia Municipalities delegation which appeared before the Cabinet.

Mayor Percy George, president, said that the delegation was told by Cabinet members that cost of holding a special referendum would be prohibitive. If held at all, it should be at the time of a general election.

Mayor George quoted Acting Premier Herbert Anscomb as saying he believed the majority in British Columbia were in favor of daylight saving.

The delegation also asked abolition of the 70 cents per patient per day which municipalities pay to hospitals.

To Investigate Foster Homes In Vancouver

Provincial Governments child welfare division has been ordered to conduct an investigation into foster homes and foster home policies in Vancouver, Health and Welfare Minister Douglas Turnbull announced yesterday.

His statement followed requests for such an inquiry from the Children's Aid Society of the Catholic Archdiocese of Vancouver. The requests were the result of the death of a Vancouver child in a foster home.

Mr. Turnbull said no such inquiry was planned for Victoria because no request had been made.

Cost of Fire Protection Cited

Victoria city provides fire protection at no cost to the Province for Provincial property moderately assessed at $13,500,000.

This statement was made by Mayor Percy E. George to the Provincial Cabinet yesterday during presentation of Union of British Columbia Municipalities' resolutions to the Cabinet.

Mayor George, president of the union, asked the Government to consider passing an act which would require fire insurance companies to pay a definite proportion of their premiums to municipalities to help meet soaring fire protection costs.

Mayor George said he believed Ontario has such an act.

He cited figures to show that in 1948 fire insurance companies collected $11,808,000 in premiums but had to pay out only $6,355,000 in losses.

In Victoria cost of fire protection had grown from $145,000 in 1920 to $379,000 in the past year, Mayor George stressed. Other municipalities were in the same position.

Edmonton's building boom reached a record of nearly $46,500,000 in 1950, or $6,000,000 higher than 1949.

One Bottle — $7.15

Penalty of $300 Imposed For Illegal Liquor Sale

Wilbur Robbins, 852 Superior Street, was fined $300 or in default three months in jail at hard labor by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court yesterday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of selling liquor.

Sgt. Stanley Holmes, who laid the charge, said Robbins sold a 26-ounce bottle of whisky for $7.15 on January 21.

Pleading guilty to a charge of violating the restriction on his driver's licence by driving a vehicle without insurance, Jagat Singh, 2565 Cook Street, was fined $40.

OPIUM CHARGE

Chu Kang, Leechtown, charged with being in possession of opium, elected trial before the magistrate and was remanded to Tuesday for plea. He is represented by James J. Proudfoot. H. W. Davey, K.C., is Crown counsel in the case.

Pleading not guilty to a drunken driving charge, Allan Nash, 1289 Vista Heights, was remanded to Wednesday for trial. Roderick Jensen, 1228 Oscar Street, pleaded not guilty to a careless driving charge and was remanded to Tuesday.

Rose Basorowich, charged with vagrancy, was remanded to this morning at the request of City Prosecutor Claude L. Harrison, who told the magistrate a doctor should examine the accused.

Cold Halts Flooding On Island

At Parksville on Thursday gardens, ditches and culverts had been washed out, and some homes isolated by water.

Lower temperatures saw the water recede from Swallowfield farm at Chemainus yesterday morning. Prior to that Jack Pimson at the service station at the corner of Crofton Roads and the old Island Highway was forced to swim his pigs to safety. Piles of lumber intended for an addition to the station were strewn across the back lawn by the flood waters.

COLDER WEATHER

The low temperature predicted for today was 27 degrees above but at midnight last night it had already fallen to 26 degrees. With a clear sky forecast, weather officials expected an even lower temperature before morning. Colder weather still is in sight.

In Victoria no flood damage of any import had been reported to the city public works department.

On Panama Flats and sections of Blenkinsop Road, water which had been reported up to the hub caps of cars was dropping. Water was also reported on the old interurban road between Burnside Road and Wilkinson Road.

Supreme Court Dismisses Suit

A $5,000 damage suit initiated last year by Stewart Robertson against Robert Wallis of Victoria for alleged trespass and assault was dismissed yesterday in Supreme Court by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane for want of prosecution.

Robertson, now serving a seven-year penitentiary sentence for his part in the June 24 hold-up of the Goldstream Inn, issued a writ for damages a month before the armed robbery, claiming that Wallis had assaulted him and had gained admission to his rooms by representing himself as a police officer.

Last December, Wallis was granted an absolute divorce decree from his wife, who testified on behalf of Robertson and his two co-accused at their trial here during the October Assizes.

Election Held By Philatelists

Mrs. Frank Dyment, 3021 Quadra Street, was honored last night when the Greater Victoria Philatelic Society presented her with a life membership. Society members held their annual election of officers at 725 Courtney Street.

Re-elected president was A. R. C. Wildig while Mrs. C. G. Bateman was re-elected vice-president. C. J. Richards was re-elected as secretary. All posts were filled by acclamation. Frank Dyment was elected as auctioneer.

INQUIRY

An inquiry into the death Thursday of eight-week-old George Frederick Knight, 121 Conard Street, will be conducted by Coroner E. C. Hart. Result will be known today.

The infant died after a choking spell.

Esquimalt Gets $19,175

Councillors Favor Use Of Grant on Road Work

The $19,175 Esquimalt received from the Federal Government in lieu of taxes on Crown property most likely will be spent on roads and other public works projects.

Queried yesterday, council members appeared unanimous in their belief that the money should be earmarked for improvement of municipal streets.

Reeve A. I. Thomas said he was in favor of using the money for public works projects. He favored presentation of a road by-law at the December elections.

Said Councillor A. C. Wurtele, chairman of the public works committee:

MUCH TO DO

"I am opposed to using the money to reduce the mill rate because there is so much work needed to be done. I favor using the money for road work and street lighting."

Councillor G. R. Guillemaud also thought the money should be applied to road work. He is against presenting another money by-law on roads this year, but contends this should be done next year.

"I believe the grant should be spent on roads, where it is most needed," stated Councillor James Bryant.

Councillor J. E. Carey felt the money should be added to the public works estimates and spent on roads and drains.

"I think the money should be spent on roads, and another money by-law for roads placed before the electors at the December election," declared Councillor W. H. Dallaway.

Councillor Alex Speirs also favored presenting another by-law to the ratepayers, but felt this year the grant should be placed in the public works estimates.

B.C. Exports More Cattle

Cattle shipped from British Columbia during 1950 numbered 65,989, an increase of 6,000 over 1949, Agriculture Minister Harry Bowman said yesterday.

Shipments to United States from the interior of the province were 8,007 head, an increase of 5,782 over the previous year.

Mr. Bowman said the United States market was the determining factor in maintaining the highest price levels ever received in Canada.

Bull sales and auctions of beef cattle throughout the province were outstandingly successful, Mr. Bowman said.

Mr. Bowman said the high prices prevailing had encouraged severe culling of herds with the result that the average quality of beef cattle in British Columbia is higher than ever before.

Alpine Club Sees Slides

The Victoria branch of the Alpine Club of Canada had its first showing of slides this season at a meeting held last night at Newstead Hall.

The slides were shown by Major Rex Gibson. The subjects dealt with different Alpine Club expeditions from Maligne Lake near Jasper.

Pictures showed approaches to the club camp where 150 members were bivouacked last July, and many scenes of climbers near summits of various mountains.

Chairman was Major S. V. Longstaff taking the place of Dr. W. E. N. Mitchell, president of the club, who was unable to attend.

'Phone Total Shows Record Gain in '50 For B.C. Telephone Co.

The B.C. Telephone Company continued its record expansion program in 1950, with an increase of 20,055 telephones, greatest increase for any single year in the company's history, and more telephones than were in its entire system in 1910.

This record progress in 1950 raised the total number of telephones in the company's system to nearly a quarter million.

The company is now growing four to five times faster than it did before the war. Since war's end it has increased by over 86,000 telephones, or nearly 55 per cent., a remarkable achievement. It took B.C. about 40 years to make its first 86,000.

In order to gain 86,000 since the war, the company installed approximately 239,000 telephones and took out about 152,000.

Local and long distance calling also set records in 1950. Local calling rose to an all-time high average of 1,366,000 per day, compared with the previous record of 1,277,000 in 1949, and filed long distance calls reached a record total of 6,353,000 for the year, compared with the previous record of 5,655,500 in 1949.

The number of long distance calls filed in 1950 amounted to more than 17,000 per day for the system as a whole.

New Movies, Radio Show, Wife's Illness Keep Dick Powell Busy

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 26 (INS).—Dick Powell is a busy man these days, what with his radio program and buying stories for his own independent film company—plus the fact that little June Allyson hasn't been too well since the birth of their baby. June caught the flu, and when I talked with her a few days ago she was feeling miserable. But she is very happy that Dick's career is booming.

Not only is his detective character paying off on the air, his independent film company is flourishing. He has bought a magazine yarn called "Breakaway," by Leon Ware. It's a comedy-drama about a New York gangster who buys a tourist camp in Florida in an effort to go straight. Dick will sing a couple of songs in this epic, which goes before the cameras March 15. I'm glad he's going to sing.

Another purchase Dick has made is "Happy Valley," an original by D. D. Beauchamp.

HOME FROM PARIS

Ladislaus Bus-Fekete and his wife, Mary Helen Faye, 20th Century-Fox writers, are home from Paris and ready to settle down and take the assignment Darryl Zanuck has just given them.

Darryl has asked them to write "Sweet Sister" intended for Anne Baxter and Cary Grant.

Sol Siegel, the producer, has the idea of bringing this story more up to date. It presently concerns an American embassy attache in Paris, but Sol would like to have the plot revolve around a young attorney who represents the Economic Co-operative Authority.

ALL-TIME GREAT

Greta Garbo's "Camille" is one of the finest pictures ever made. There are few better, and certainly it was Garbo's best.

George Sidney has been looking at the picture again with the idea of remaking it with Ava Gardner and Howard Keel. I don't know why Garbo couldn't do it again. I know she feels she looks older than she did then, but her face is still so lovely and there is no one who ever played Camille's death scene the way she did. It's one motion picture scene that will go down in history as an all-time great.

Uncle Wiggily Story - -

By Howard Garis

WOLFIE'S NUMBER WORK

In Hollow Tree School, Foxie, Bobbie the bobcat and Wolfie the wolf had come to visit the Lady Mouse Teacher and Uncle Wiggily. They had also come to visit Buster, Bunty and all the other animal boys and girls.

Foxie thought he was smart and tried to read, but he did not even know his A, B, C letters so he had to start at the very beginning.

Bobbie thought he was smart and had tried to write on the blackboard with a piece of chalk. But the marks he made were like the tracks of Charlie Chick the rooster boy walking in a mud puddle.

Then Miss Mouse said it was time to close school for the day but Wolfie the wolf called:

"Oh, no, not yet please. I want my turn.

"What turn do you want, Wolfie?" inquired Uncle Wiggily as he twinkled his pink nose. The jolly old rabbit gentleman was having much fun in school. "What can you do, Wolfie?"

"I can do number work," answered Wolfie.

"No, Wolfie, think well of what you are saying," warned Miss Mouse. "Have you ever been in school before?"

"No, Miss Mouse, thank you. This is my first day in school."

"Then why do you think you can do number work, Wolfie?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Number work is very hard, sometimes."

"Oh, I am sure I can do number work," said Wolfie. "I can count. I am one, Foxie is two and Bobbie is one more. That makes seven."

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed Bunty the orphan rabbit. "Oh, excuse me for laughing, Wolfie," said Bunty politely. "But one and one and one are three, not seven."

"Oh, is that so?" asked Wolfie, surprised like. "Well now I have learned something in school. One and one and one more are—how many did you say it was, Bunty?"

"I said three," answered the orphan rabbit. "But do not feel sad, Wolfie. If you go in the reading and writing class with Bobbie and Foxie, you will soon know number work."

"Thank you, Bunty," said Wolfie politely. "But maybe if I went to the blackboard I could do better number work there."

"You may try, Wolfie," said Miss Mouse. "Here is a piece of chalk. Go to the board and put down some numbers. It is your turn."

"Thank you, Miss Mouse," said Wolfie politely.

Taking the piece of chalk from the teacher of Hollow Tree School, Wolfie walked toward the blackboard. On the way he looked out of the window. Then he began to walk very fast as he said:

"I must be very quick. I must put down many numbers on the blackboard. Then I must add them all up and I will be a smart little wolfie, I hope."

At the blackboard Wolfie began making marks with the chalk. They were just little, short marks, like the number one. And as fast as he made the marks Wolfie began counting out very loud:

"One and one and one are two hundred and another one is three hundred and another one is seven hundred hunters with seven hundred guns coming to Hollow Tree School. Seven hundred hunters!"

"Why are you doing such funny number work, Wolfie?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "A few number ones do not make seven hundred."

"Hush! Quiet, please!" whispered Wolfie. "Out of the window just now I saw a big, black animal coming to this school. I don't know who he is. But when he hears me speak of seven hundred hunters with guns I think he will run away. Oh, he is a big, black animal. Seven hundred hunters!"

I will tell you more about the big black animal very soon. It will be a jolly, funny story. And I hope the milk bottle doesn't slide down the slippery steps and spill all the cream on the door mat.
